OFF THE TOP

Put a Splinter in the Lion's Paw

by Joseph W. Bean

There is something you can do to help me give you the magazine you want. Read this. It's a lot of background and my "prescription" number one.

Drummer magazine has been out getting gladly manhandled by leathermen for more than 15 years now, probably longer than most Drummer readers have been in the same situation. Over the years, the publishers and editors have changed the magazine many times, adjusting it to their own tastes at times, but mostly searching for the combination of fantasy and journalism that the readers wanted at that time.

We're doing that right now. And, in a sense, we're always doing that. We watch the Male Call letters, the writers' fan mail, and the level of sales and returns, looking for trends. We talk to whomever will talk back at conferences and meetings. We ask people who present programs to the leather community which of their presentations get the best attendance or reaction. And, of course, we do our best to respond to the information we collect in terms of Drummer's content and tone.

We attempt to do all of this while maintaining the position Drummer naturally has taken among leathermen, one of leadership and innovation, sometimes risking being misunderstood in order to "report" from the current "front lines" of leatherdom.

Some of the mitigating forces, the things that have retarded or stopped Drummer's progress at times, are obvious. Certainly, losing editors and contributors (not to mention readers) during the AIDS epidemic has taken its toll. Our wobbly finances were dealt a nearly deadly blow by the San Francisco earthquake of 1989. The recession has hurt us, as it has hurt just about everyone. And, when finances get the upper hand, determining what can and can not be done, that starts a nearly unbreakable cycle of financial problems—what is not published is never paid for and provides no income for publishing what is next on the schedule.

All of that is hard to cope with, but it is just what being in this business is about these days. There is another factor that is hurting Drummer, and almost as directly hurting Drummer readers: that is the tide of repressive politics and the resulting laws and prosecutions.

The Bill of Rights, for all its beautiful language, means nothing in a climate where the legislatures and courts ignore it. Censorship—legal barriers to what we may publish—runs rampant in America today because the conservative establishment stands four-square against us. The result of this may not be entirely obvious as you page through most issues of Drummer. We still have kinky fiction with relatively explicit art. We still don't ride our classified advertisers too hard about the things they put in their ads. We still put out pages of action photography in most issues. But, even though we do pull back somewhat from what we might like to publish, we—including you!—are paying a price for that for not pulling back to the near-nothing, non-erotic pablum that the falwells and dannemeyers would allow us if they had their way completely.

The toll for having any bondage, any hot wax, any piss in Drummer is high: Various distributors simply will not distribute the issues they think could be prosecuted as obscene in their territories. So, whole states or multi-state areas don't get any newsstand copies of some issues. Similarly, whole countries disappear from our commercial sales map.

The bigots know what they're doing to us. Fewer sales areas certainly means fewer sales. So that, even as our sales in some areas grow tremendously, the net change in overall sales level is a downward trend which they obviously hope will eventually result in Drummer and everything far from the "family-value" mainstream being unable to publish at all.

That could happen. Let me repeat: That could happen!

Some of the things you can do to help turn the tide are obvious: vote for right-minded politicos in local and national elections; subscribe to Drummer so that the closing of newsstands or the disappearance of Drummer on newsstands in your area won't cost us the sale of your copy; keep the elected and appointed officials in your area aware that their treatment of your First Amendment rights are under scrutiny by you and your friends. Some of the things you can do are less obvious.

Become a media watcher: React passionately to anti-sexual, anti-gay, and anti-leather/SM material that shows up in the media. Example: In an early-October issue of Time magazine, in an article about heavy metal music, the writer used a phrase like (Sorry, I don't have it here to quote precisely.) "leather-clad lowlifes" and connected (not quite equating) leather-wearing with a state he described as "lobotomized." Letters to the editors of Time, demanding that they take up the issue of bigotry with this writer could make a difference. If he had slurred any race or religion in the same way, his editors would have removed the reference. Today, the chances are good that the same language would not be used in referring to gay men and women. But leatherfolk are still fair game, or so the editors of Time believe. We can't change their minds, but we can change their behavior (just as readers' letters change what we put into our magazines)... AND changing what major, mainstream publications say about our lives does eventually change what the general public "knows" and believes.

Push back... it's worth the effort.

CAUTION

Every decision a person makes, including the decision to get out of bed in the morning, has some degree of risk associated with it. We strongly believe that each competent adult must set for themselves the level of risk he or she is willing to accept. Some avoid crossing streets in heavy traffic—others stunt-ride motorcycles without a helmet. However, to intelligently confront and accept risk, a person must understand the dangers.

While Drummer hopes to educate its readers on a wide variety of topics, its main purpose is to entertain! Works of fiction presented in this magazine are just that—fiction! They are not in any way intended to suggest or describe activities that anyone should—or often could—actually do. They are meant for entertainment only. In other than fictional pieces, we will emphasize safe sex with respect to contagious diseases, and safe and sane behavior with respect to all activities, and will try to point out all activities which deviate from recognized safe-sex and safe-and-sane play activities.

However, Desmodus, Inc., its officers and stockholders, the editors and staff of Drummer, columnists, authors, artists and other contributors to this publication and other organs of Desmodus, Inc., cannot be held responsible for accidents, injuries or other or improper application of information imparted or ideas generated by materials in Drummer, or from Desmodus, Inc. products.

MALE CALL

MAKING CONTACT, OR NOT

Drummer has been one of my favorite gay magazines for many years. But I have a problem that has begun to bother me.

If I write to a P. O. Box or address in your classifieds, I invariably receive a response, but if I have to respond to a "Dear Sir" ad using your box number, I never receive a response. It seems a black-white situation. I carefully follow directions, adding the $1 bill (not a check, but a dollar).

I think it is curious. Should I send a check? Do you have problems like this from other people? Somehow I feel there is a problem.

Steve/Washington, DC

No doubt about it, there is a problem here, but it is not quite the problem it may seem. I've checked the system carefully and can assure you that letters are consistently and promptly forwarded (whether accompanied by cash or check). It seems the issue here is more a matter of how "out there" the guys are, how serious about making actual contact, as opposed to just getting hot letters they only half-intend to respond to. Putting their personal addresses in their ads is a far more serious commitment, and that, I think, is where the difference is. And, meantime, all responses to classifieds amount to a lottery of sorts. You get an answer or you don't, depending on such things as the actual intentions of the advertiser, how precisely you match his desires, the effects of geographical nearness/travel intentions, etc. etc. etc.

RE: DADDIES & BOYS

Regarding "Daddies & Their boys" (Drummer 149). Being a cleanshaven and smooth chest man who is very attracted to beards and fur, I found the photo (of the author and his boy) interesting. I have found that most bears surround themselves with only other bears. Seeing that your relationship is working, I will continue my search for a Daddy Bear.

Jud/Richfield Springs, NY

If there is a Daddy Bear out there who'd like to get in touch with Jud, write to him using the "How to reply" instructions on page 53. His box number is 151-06.

Having never written to a magazine, so I'm not sure how to say this, but I just HAD to thank you for publishing that article on "Daddies and Their Boys." I just could not believe how relevant it was to me. I have been sexually active for seven years, in a bad relationship for three, and have never been able to find the "right" situation. Being kind of a novice to leathersex, your article REALLY cleared up some misconceptions I was having.

The long-term relationships I've had were not fulfilling. I've seen my share of one-night masters who would use me as they saw fit, and even as exciting as it was at the time, left me feeling empty afterwards. I understand servitude very well, but can only conceive of it in the bedroom (or around the house). Being a full-time, complete slave, allowing oneself to be locked in a pen like an animal and submitting to constant mistreatment may be okay for some people—to each his own—but it's not for me.

Leather, submission, bondage, rough trade, and most other things attached to the slave position really get me hot, but outside the bedroom, I want to be my own person, and still have the love, caring, and respect of my partner. It's very enlightening to know that there are still some men out there who get into all the perks of leathersex, but still know how to treat their partners with dignity and respect. Now... where do I find one? (heheheh)

I think that it's time some of us "boys" and "bear cubs" realized that we don't necessarily HAVE to submit to round-the-clock torture, degradation, and humiliation just to get the full, satisfying experiences we like.

Also, the "poem" written by that Tough Customer, the puppy, which accompanied the article was very good. It expressed the way I think a lot of us feel. We still want the love and respect!

Thanks a bunch, from an enlightened reader.

ROUND TWO OVERDUE

With regard to Drummer #115 which included coverage of wrestling, I would like to comment on the fine essay on page 26. (Editor's note: the essay was written by Feldermaus, and published over three years ago.)

Your remark that "the new pro wrestling is different from what it was 35 years ago" because there is "...less actual wrestling..." in today's matches is indeed a very acute observation.

What gave wrestling of the past its erotic appeal was the mounting tension of the "...straining holds, flesh on flesh grappling..." that gave the impression of two men engaging in a kind of extended foreplay. This aggressive struggle for dominance seesawed back and forth and agonizingly continued on until it reached its climax in the form of one inevitable pin or submission hold—the moment at which the release of (and relief from) accumulated tension could finally take place.

I hope that you convince those in charge at Drummer that an issue featuring wrestling is long overdue. I (and, no doubt, countless other readers) very much look forward to your commentary on the sport in the 1990s.

signed: A Drummer Reader

You are probably right. There must be other readers who share your interest in wrestling. So you should know that wrestling is one of the things we are trying to pull together for upcoming issues of the Drummer. When? I don't know, but it's in the works. Please keep writing to let us know what you want to see in the magazine.

LEATHER NOTEBOOK

By Larry Townsend

Dear Larry,

I am Mark Ryan's (IML) dry cleaner, and I'm Hot and Horny for his boyfriend, Matthew (Mad Max). I'm a Top, but would bottom out for him anytime. I sent him a letter, but no answer. What else can I do? Where can I buy uniforms? (I also have a boyfriend)

Wet in Boston for Mad Max!

Dear Wet,

Okay, I've passed on the word. Let's see if he responds. I imagine, though, you'll have to get in line. As to finding uniforms. Let your fingers do the walking. Any major city has places that sell uniforms to law enforcement people, and that's a good place to start - the good old yellow pages, that is.

Dear Sir:

I am interested in many aspects of the leather scene; however, I am also shy, and want to meet someone who would expand my limits and become my best friend and partner. I am a guy with Klinefelter's Syndrome, and because my body lacks the male hormone, testosterone, I have begun - after 20 years - to take a weekly 100 mg dose. My body is developing some muscle tone, but my doctor says it may take at least 18 months to see a change. I find myself attracted to a muscular male. I am a nice looking guy : 6'4" 230 lbs, salt/ pepper hair, brown bedroom eyes, black mustache and beard, small endowment and balls, non smoker, light drinker, no drugs, HIV neg, 45 years old. I would appreciate your comments. I do respond to ads, and will continue to do so. If you print my name, please use my first and middle names only. I still live in the same city as my folks, and they are not aware of my lifestyle.

John M, Roanoke VA

Dear John,

Although you tell a good portion of your life story, you do not indicate how much sexual/SM experience you have had. I suspect this has been somewhat limited. At least, I detect more than a modicum of naivete in your initial statement. Be that as it may, you present an unusual problem. At the present, you apparently have a body with somewhat feminine delineation - and there are a lot of guys who like that. However, at the same time you are in the process of trying to change yourself into a more masculine mode. That sounds great, too, except the guys who like you one way may not be attracted to your other persona. I'd suggest that you not worry so much about finding your life's partner right t the moment. Whether via an ad in Drummer (or whatever local publications you have in your area), or personal contact, you should probably experience little more before you try to get serious with anyone. If the right guy is going to come along, it is most likely to happen unexpectedly - - and he is not going to be the image of your fantasies. Just as you're looking for someone to compromise in picking you, you should expect to do the same.

Dear Larry,

I'm a 28 year old guy with above average looks (facially), and I work out regularly, so I have a good body, normal endowment, etc. However, I'm HIV positive, and have been for about five years. I have no symptoms, and get regular check-ups to make sure. (T-cells still above 1500.) Naturally, I want to have sex once in a while, and I don't have any problems finding partners. I'm into leather, light SM, bondage, etc. and I'll take either side. I always insist on playing by safe-sex rules, but I don't tell my partner that I'm positive any more, because when I did I had a couple walk out on me. Since I play it safe, anyway, I don't see where I'm doing anything wrong. But I have been told otherwise. What do you think?

Positive in Houston TX

Dear Positive,

Yours is a moral dilemma shared by all too many in our community.

Those of us who are a little more sophisticated to the situation simply assume that any previously unknown partner is HIV positive and behave accordingly - regardless of anything he says. Statistical surveys have shown that an overwhelming proportion of guys will lie to get the sex partners they want. The fact that you are ethical enough to be concerned about it marks you as a person with enough sense of responsibility to abide by the safe-sex rules. That being the case, I don't think it matters what you say. The only important exception might be if your prospective partner asks you outright, when he is going to be Top. In that situation he might take you at your word and do something he shouldn't, when you can't do anything to stop him.

Dear Master Larry, Sir!

Some time ago, you answered a letter from a slave who was being "dog trained", and in the course of this was being forced to eat dog food. At that time you indicated that you did not think Kal Kan or any of the better brands would do him any harm, at least over limited periods of time. i am a weekend slave, and have been being "pussy trained" for about two months. i report to my Master on Friday evening, and am allowed to leave early Monday morning. When i arrive i am stripped naked, except for a velvet collar and cockring, both studded with rhinestones. i am required to crawl on all fours, to sleep on a big cushion t the foot of my Master's bed, to use a sandbox for my natural functions, and i am fed only cat food. Of course, i am also given lots of " pettings", which always get heavier until my back and ass are really red. Anyway, all of this is great and i love it, except that the cat food (Wiskas and Friskies) is making me nauseous a lot of the time, and i'm afraid it might cause me some health problems. i'm a bit of a health nut, and eat very properly for the rest of the week, work out at the gym, etc. What do you think?

Pussy-slave, Chicago IL

Dear Pussy,

I'm not sure what to tell you about cat food, because the formulations are apparently very different from dog foods. Cats seem able to digest things that dogs can't handle. In addition to my two Dobermans, I have a couple of cats, and I've discovered that the dogs will get sick if they eat any appreciable amount of from the cats bowl. Although I don't like to interfere with a Master's control of his slave, I have to be honest and tell you that he is doing something I wouldn't do; and my reason for not doing it would be fear of endangering my slave's health.

If you would like to have LarryTownsend address a particular problem or issue, you can write him c/o Leather Notebook, Drummer, PO Box 410390, San Francisco, CA 94141-0390

BLACK RUBBER KNIGHT

By Bryan Anderson Illustrated by Tom of Finland

I found the apartment easily enough. The directions Hal had given me over the phone were quite explicit, and I had no trouble getting here by following them.

I'd come across his ad in a personals column in one of those gay papers you find in all the bars, and I carried it around in my wallet for almost a week before I got up the nerve to call the number he'd listed. In fact, I still had the ad in my wallet. I reread it one more time to give myself confidence to follow through on my plans.

Rubber top, 32 has gym-trained body and well-equipped playroom. Looking for hot guy who wants to be a rubberman. I can make your dreams come true. Don't call if you're not serious. Hal, call evenings only...(and it gave his number).

And here I was at his door, hoping, yet afraid, that this man might really be able to make my dreams come true, as promised. He'd already buzzed me into the building, and now, I knew, he was waiting for me. I steeled my nerves and rapped on the door.

Hal answered my knock almost immediately, and he surprised me. He stood before me in a black latex body suit, slick and exciting, a second skin covering him completely except for his head and hands. His head was completely shaved.

His ad didn't lie: he was obviously a rubberman, and he clearly spent a lot of time working on his body.

Light from an overhead fixture made shiny relfections on the smooth darkness which covered him, accenting his well-developed chest, slim waist, and muscular thighs. A zipper ran down the front of the suit from high on his neck to the inviting bulge of his manhood pressing out against the latex between his thighs. He also wore molded rubber boots, turned down at the calf.

Here was a man who took care of his body and who knew how to show off what he had to its best advantage. He looked like a god in rubber, his shaved scalp accentuating how different he was from other men.

"Hi, guy. I've been expecting you," he said.

He looked me over and broke into a smile. I guess he liked what he saw too. "C'mon inside," he said. He put a hand on my shoulder, and led me into the apartment, then closed the door and bolted it.

"You sure look good in that suit," I said, at a loss for words and feeling a little self conscious about my street clothes. I wanted to be dressed like him. Hell, I wanted to be him. He looked so fucking hot, like something out of a Tom of Finland drawing.

"Thanks. I thought you might like to see what you're getting into at the outset. I figured if this turns you on, we're off to a good start. If not, this was going to be a short evening," he said. "You don't mind me being so up front, do you?"

"No, not at all. I think it's going to be a great night if what I see in any indication. I like what I see. I like it a lot. What're my chances of getting into one of those suits myself?"

"No problem," he answered, "but what's the hurry? I think we should spend some time getting to know each other first, okay? Let's work up to this a little. How about splitting a joint?"

He pointed to one of the overstuffed chairs in the living room and said, "Have a seat, and I'll get us something."

I sat down and took off my running shoes. He turned to the mantle over the fireplace and took a joint out of a small metal box. I watched the way his body moved under the rubber, watched his round buns flex as he walked, smelled the rubber in the air. I had trouble holding back my excitement. He sat down in the chair opposite me and lit the joint. We passed it back and forth a few times, exchanged a little small talk, and then I got up the nerve to go over to him and pull him into my arms, feeling his hard body next to mine.

"You're really hot stuff in that outfit," I said, "what do you say we get down to business?" I kissed him full on the lips, and ran my hand over his latex-covered back and thighs—so smooth, seamless, and slick. The joint made my head swim slightly, but I was acutely aware of his presence. He overwhelmed me. I wanted more, and I wanted it now!

"How about a shower first?" he asked. "I'd like to get you all cleaned up before we start." This request surprised me a little. I could think of several things we might do together, but showering wasn't the first thing to come to mind—not by a long shot. To tell the truth, though, the idea of being naked with a rubberman sounded pretty interesting. "Consider it foreplay," he said.

In that context, a shower sounded like a really good idea. "Okay, then, a shower it is," I said. "Show me the way."

While Hal adjusted the taps, I slipped off my t-shirt, and slid out of my jeans and socks. Hal stepped under the stream of water, turned to me and pulled me against himself under the warm flow. The water cascaded off his black suit and smooth scalp, and I thrilled to rub against the wet slickness that enveloped him. My dick throbbed with excitement. Hal reached down and picked up a razor from the edge of the shower stall and held it up in front of me. He looked into my eyes and said, "This is part of the clean-up."

Another surprise, but between my excitement and the effects of the joint, I was game for just about anything Hal wanted to do. I told myself that the only way I'd ever find out whether or not I liked something was to try it at least once, and I felt I could trust Hal. "Where exactly do you have in mind?" I asked.

Keeping my eyes locked in his gaze, he rubbed his hands over my chest and down my abdomen, squeezed my balls, then brushed his hand over my thighs. "Here, here, and here," he said, "okay? It's what I'm like under this suit."

I was a little reluctant, but if that's what Hal wanted, and if it would make me more like him... then, hell, why not? I'd never been shaved before, but I was hot for Hal, and if that's what he wanted, I wanted it too. "Can I help," I offered.

"Just stand still," he said, and began running the razor over my chest, down my tensed stomach, and over my thighs. The cascading water carried away the hair, and I gradually started to become a smooth hairless man. He expertly scraped away all my body hair, then started working on the hair around my dick and balls. He carefully cradled each testicle one at a time in his hand and cut away alll the hair there. Then he scraped away all the hair around my dick. Soon there was no hair anywhere.

It looked odd to see my chest , dick, and balls hairless and vulnerable, but at the same time, it was strangely exciting too, and the sensation of the water on the smooth skin was new to me. Hal interrupted my reverie with another question. "Just one more place, okay?" I think I knew what he had in mind, and I hesitated to answer. "C'mon, be a rubberman. Be like me. I know you want to, too." I hesitated, but I didn't say no.

He leaned forward and kissed me deeply. At the same time, I felt the razor scrape away a strip of hair from the top of my scalp. I pulled away quickly, startled by the action. But the deed had been done. I ran my hand over the shaved patch on my scalp, and decided we might as well go all the way now.

He'd already started, and by this time I was so hot for him that I would do anything he wanted to do, even if it meant shaving my head. We'd be even more alike! I smiled at him, and he ran the razor over my entire scalp, clearing large swaths of hair with each stroke. I watched the hair swirl away with the water.

Finally, I knew that I was bald, as smooth and hairless as Hal himself, and that idea was very erotic. It was exciting to be so vulnerable, so exposed. The water felt strange on my now naked scalp, and Hal ran his hands all over me. I revelled in sensations I'd never felt before. We continued to explore each other's bodies, but I felt at a disadvantage because he was in rubber and I was so naked. "Can I get into some rubber now?" I asked.

"Yeah. I think it's time to have a look at the playroom now. C'mon," he said. He turned off the water and handed me a towel. "Make sure you dry off real good."

I dried myself carefully, and Hal lightly patted a towel over his own latex suit to take off the excess water. I felt slightly awkward about my hairless state, but I was more excited than uncomfortable. After all, I was more like Hal—more like a rubberman—than ever before. The cloth of the towel felt strange on my scalp, and my head felt sensitive and vulnerable.

When we finished drying off, Hal led me into another room, the playroom. A black leather sling hung from the ceiling and dominated the room. It was impossible to ignore. Hal noticed me staring at it and asked, "Think you can get into it?"

"No problem there, Sir." I said without a moment's hesitation. I'd guessed that this was to be the evening's entertainment, and I was interested in the possibilities. I knew what the main course was going to be, but I was uncertain of the "extras"—although I was very much looking forward to them. I thought a survey of the room might give me some clues.

It was much dimmer than the rest of the apartment, but even in this light I could see that shelving units and cabinets lined three walls. In one corner sat a box with latex tubes, several with attached cylinders on top. I recognized the dark shapes on some of the shelves: dildoes, familiar toys, and wide straps. But most of the room was in too much shadow to see clearly. It smelled right though! As soon as he opened the door I was hit by the unmistakable aroma of latex. It sent a shiver down my spine, and made my stomach quiver.

"Now let's see if we can't find you something to wear more in keeping with this room's decor, eh?" he said with a smile. I was still wearing the towel I had from the bathroom.

Hal walked over to one of the cabinets and opened it. He looked through a series of black latex body suits hanging there, some with open-face hoods hanging down the backs, others with full hoods, one with a zipper down the back. He selected a suit like his own with a zipper down the front, and held it up in front of me. "Here. This one should be okay for you. It's about your size."

I held the cold rubber against my naked flesh, inhaling it's sweet fragrance. Hell, I'd have squeezed into it if it had been ten sizes too small! I wanted to get into something latex in a big way, and right away.

Hal lay the suit on the carpet and sprinkled the inside of the torso with a white dusting powder, then he shook the excess powder into the sleeves and legs. I helped as much as I could, excited by the prospect of my soon-to-be skin. He helped me squeeze one foot and then the other through the suit's legs, then forced the rubber up each calf, knee, and lower thigh. I could feel the cool pressure rising higher and higher on my body, and I wanted more. I wanted to be completely buried in this gentle black pressure.

"I want it all over me," I said, rubbing Hal's suit, feeling his smooth, dark, synthetic skin. He was crouched in front of me, helping me work the latex over my body. From this angle, I could see the top of his razor-smoothed head. I reached down and stroked it. It was slick as latex itself—an extension of his body suit. And I knew my head was exactly the same.

I bent forward and kissed the top of his head. His shaved scalp symbolized his commitment to the latex fraternity, a sign of his interest in things smooth, slick, and out of the ordinary. One man in a thousand. And I was like him too.

"Don't worry," he said, "you're going to get all the rubber you could ever want. But we're going to take it nice and slow. Now, let's get everything tucked in here...." As he spoke, he was forcing my swollen dick inside the black suit. His touch made the process even more difficult as my cock became still more rigid, but we did manage to get the damned thing crammed in there.

It was much easier getting the rest of the suit on. I slipped my arms into the sleeves, then pulled the whole torso portion up over my shoulders. Hal helped close the zipper. The coolness and the tightness against my skin made me acutely aware of the contact. I wriggled my shoulders to adjust the latex around my waist, chest, and shoulders. Then I stretched my arms to make the rubber kiss my skin more closely. I could feel the pressure everywhere on my body, and it felt good. Hal helped me the latex socks which completely encased my feet. And, together, we worked my hands into a pair of skin-tight latex gloves, sealing me into the suit now so that only my head was left exposed.

We hugged again, and kissed, and I could feel his body heat through the two layers of latex—his and mine. This was where I wanted to be. He put his mouth close to my ear and asked, "Do you still want more?" Then he kissed me full on the mouth. I nodded my head. Yes, I wanted more, and I kissed him again, all the more passionately. We clung to each other, arm in arm, chest to chest, thigh to thigh, and our groins pressed together, trapped within the confines of our suits. "Just one more thing completes the suit," he said, reaching over to one of the nearby shelves, picking up a piece of folded rubber.

As he shook out the latex, I recognized it as a one piece hood. He carefully powdered the inside, shook it out, then stood in front of me, holding the hood by the neck with both hands, stretching it slightly to keep it open. "Give me another kiss," he demanded, and I eagerly accommodated him. His tongue thrust deep into my mouth. As he pulled away from me, he raised his hands and began working the hood over my head.

I held my breath as he lowered the hood over my eyes, ears, nose and chin, then I helped him adjust it so that my mouth lined up with the single opening. I stood still as he carefully worked the edges of the hood into the top of my suit, and my breath quickened as I thought of myself totally encased in smooth, shiny, black rubber.

I could picture how I looked, having fantasized about it many times. The reality of encasement in latex was more exciting than I had imagined it could be—this was real, and here I was sharing the experience with the rubberman of my dreams, coated in smooth latex and totally clean-shaven. Not a single hair marred his perfection.

Now I was like him too: a rubberman. No longer an individual, but every man who ever dreamed of being rubberized. I knew how I looked—smooth and black, as though my entire body had been dipped in a vat of liquid latex which left me sealed-in from head to toe. Shape identified me as a rubberman, but not as an individual. All the external things that describe me lay buried in rubber. I was free to be what I felt. Free to be what I wanted to be. A rubberman.

Hal gently moved me until I could feel the straps of the sling pressing against my thighs. "Hold onto the straps," he said. He carefully maneuvered me into position in the sling. I slid up on the harness so that I was centered more or less between the two pairs of straps which held it suspended from the ceiling.

"Good. Now, give me your right hand." I held out my right hand, and felt a restraint being buckled onto it. I could hear the metal click as it was fastened, then felt Hal lift my arm up to attach the restraint to one of the straps. "Now, the left.." He repeated the procedure for my left hand. I was committed now—without my hands there was no way I could get myself out of the sling even if I wanted to. But getting out was the furthest thing from my mind. I wanted more!

I felt him slide a hand along my arm, down my torso, and over my bulging groin, then down my left leg. He fastened a restraint to each of my ankles, attaching them to the other sling straps. Now I was well and truly where I wanted to be, coated in rubber and floating weightless in bondage. For a moment I was left to savor my helplessness.

Hal touched me again, running a hand along the inside of my thigh and under my crotch. The next thing I knew, I felt a strap tightening just below my knee, then another above the knee, and another high up on my thigh. He fastened similar restraints on my left leg, too. It felt good, very good.

There was nothing else for a moment. I was left alone in my confinement. Then Hal was back, this time wrapping bindings around my abdomen, pressing me closer to the sling, and further restricting my movement. Another strap closer to the chest, another across my chest. They were tight enough that I couldn't move, barely loose enough for me to breathe. I felt a strap tighten across my forehead, and another around my throat. My head was locked in place, totally immobile... and I loved it. My dick responded, throbbing harder within the tight confines of the suit. I moaned in pleasure. This is how I had imagined it would be. "This is great," I sighed.

"No more talk," I heard him say, then his tongue was pressing into my mouth. He kissed me long and passionately. I tried to push up to him with all my body. I wanted to embrace him, to hold his rubber manhood against me, but I couldn't move even a tiny bit. He ran his hands over my arms, shoulders, torso, and thighs. I could feel his closeness, but I couldn't touch back. He brought the kiss to a close and moved away from me.

"Open your mouth," he said. A soft piece of rubber with a solid core was touching my lips. I used my lips, teeth and tongue to work it into my mouth. It was some kind of gag with a breathing tube in the center. The gag inflated slowly, slowly. . . forcing my jaw open wider to accommodate the expanding rubber.

Hal stopped for a moment to let me get used to the size, then he inflated the gag further. Latex completely filled my mouth, almost making me choke, but I could handle it, holding back the natural reflex. I took the latex like a man, loving it, feeling it become part of me. "Is it going okay?" he asked.

"Hnngh," I answered, more or less in the affirmative. How long was the tube? Where did it go? At least that question was answered almost immediately: it went to a bottle of poppers. I recognized the "smell" at once and took several deep breaths, holding each for a moment before exhaling. The last breath I held longer than the others as a sign to Hal that I'd had enough.

I felt the world fall away from me as I spiraled down, down into the rush, my brain an express train racing into a tunnel. I could feel the latex pressing against every part of my body, my head, the inside of my mouth. A few breaths of fresh air put me back in the here and now.

Hal opened the zipper between my legs, and I felt rubber-gloved fingers working my balls out of the confined space inside the suit. He fondled my balls, then began wrapping a wide rubber strap around their base, tighter and tighter, forcing my balls as far away from my body as they could go. He continued, wrapping the balls themselves with the remainder of the rubber strap. I could feel the tubber tightening around my scrotum, and I could imagine how it must look. When he finished, my balls were stretched away from my body, squeezed and encased in rubber.

After a pause, I felt one of his rubber-gloved fingers probing my butt, applying some sort of cool lubricant there. Another pause. Then I felt the cool, unmistakable presence of rubber pressing against my butt hole. It was soft, and I guessed it was an inflatable didlo. I relaxed as much as I could... it was all I could do in my restrained position.

He pushed the latex into me, little by little. I felt it slowly working its way past my sphincter, up inside me. A few gentle but insistent pushes later, I felt the hard rubber end of the dildo push inside me, leaving only an attached air hose running to the outside. Contact! I had "swallowed" the whole thing. I sighed audibly, letting Hal know that I knew it was there. He pushed the end of the dildo as far up inside me as he could with his finger, then he withdrew the finger.

I heard the squeeze bulb working a moment before I felt the latex start to move inside me, writhing about and trying to straighten into the fat penis-shape it was meant to be. I felt it pushing up, filling me.

Hal pumped a few more times, then paused, then pumped a few more times. A pause, then I heard the escape of air. Hal must have turned the release valve, letting air hiss out the bulb in his hands. I felt the pressure inside me fade away with the excaping air. Soon the hiss and pressure disappeared completely. Silence.

Then, once again, I felt his finger probing inside me, pushing the latex penis even farther up my butt. Now that the dildo had straightened out, it was easier to move inside me. Great!

Another shot of poppers, and then I felt the latex expanding inside my butt once more. Hal pumped slowly, giving my guts time to adjust to the dildo growing inside me. It felt good, really good to be filled with latex. The thought of the huge black dildo filling my butt with latex manhood excited me. It's what I'd wanted more than anything else. Encased in rubber outside, and filled with rubber inside.

Hal pressed his body down on top of me and spoke over my latex-covered ear. "How does that feel?" His voice was muffled by two layers of latex—the hood and the strap. I moaned slightly, unable to be more articulate because of the latex bubble in my mouth, pressing down on my tongue. "More?" he asked. I tried to nod enthusiastically.

The dildo began to inflate even more, this time filling me to the limit. The pressure grew and grew, becoming a solid object in my guts. Now more than ever I was a rubber man, head to toe encased in latex, and filled to bursting inside with more of the same.

Hal put the bottle of poppers under the breathing tube of the gag again, and I took several long breaths. Just as the amyl started to take effect, I heard a distant buzzing. Suddenly my dick was exploding with sensation. Hal was touching me with some kind of vibrator, and the sensations along my dick were driving me crazy.

I fought against the restraints, uselessly, and pushed myself away from and toward the device that so unmercifully tormented my dick. I couldn't stand it for very long, and soon the pressure bulding in my body came to a peak. My rubber-bound balls ached for release. I strained with all my might against the all-encompassing bonds, and panted through the restricting tube in my mouth.

The dildo up my butt writhed about inside me, driving me over the edge.

A scream rose through my guts and burst from my gag-filled mouth at the same instant that the climax shot through my consciousness. I bucked and tossed in the throes of ecstasy, and my rubber-encased balls shot wad after wad of spunk into the air, spattering the black perfection covering me.

That climax marked me: A rubberman for life.

DRUMMEDIA

The Rude, The Rad, and The Wriggly

by Joseph W. Bean

Did you miss me? Rather, did you miss DrumMEdia? Well we're back with a backlog. This issue I'm running through about half of the books that have stacked up here, plus a few other items in the miscellany category (dragons and a calendar, actually). Why books before videos? Because books tend to be shunted aside for videos most of the time, because books are easier to select as gifts (and it's that time of year) than videos, and because I can re-examine and write about books in the middle of the night while my boy is sleeping, whereas I'd be sure to wake him up if I started re-viewing videos... You understand, don't you?

Dragons

I know, you're used to thinking of media as being composed of print, film, video, broadcast, and performance works. Me, too. But we live in a changing world. T-shirts are media these days, and jewelry can be. So, why not a wearable dragon, too.

Sleeping Dragon's wonderfully "decked out" Biker Dragon.

Frankly, I have had a little trouble with the craze for Teddy Bears. Somehow, Teddy Bears, even when dressed in rebel biker leathers, don't quite do it for me. So, when I saw a leather-clad kangaroo, I got interested. But, no. That wasn't quite the thing to replace Teddy Bears for me. Then I looked at some rather interesting pigs that turned up in a street fair... dogs, too... and we were getting warmer. But no-dressed-for-action stuffed creature really got my juices flowing until I ran into Hal Rainbow at the GMSMA Tenth Anniversary Weekend in New York last March. There, sitting on his shoulder looking very impertinent and attitudinal, was a wonderfully nasty dragon dressed in leather and chains, carrying a flogger. Hot stuff!

It turns out, as I have since discovered, that Hal has a bit of a cottage industry in dragon-making. All of his dragons are hand made and "fully posable, with movable arms, legs, tail, head, and wings. Each is capable of holding small objects such as keys, clamps, and credit cards in his fingers and toes...." What's more, by far, is they're cute without being cutesy, cool without being yuppiefied, and they communicate boldly whether you wear them or "pose" them on a shelf in the bedroom.

Hal's stable of dragon models includes a Biker Dragon, dressed in a studded biker jacket with chain (club colors made up separately on request), chaps, handcuffs, and cat-o-nine. He can be adopted for $95.00, amazingly, this includes shipping. Other interesting models are the Boy Dragon (leather jock, vest, boots, collar, and handcuffs) for $85.00; Leather Angel Dragon for $85.00; Construction Worker Dragon (work jacket, boots, hard hat and "tool") for $80.00; as well as the Provincetown Dragon in beach wear with shopping bags at $75.00, and the Wizard Dragon with magical costume and paraphernalia at $80.00. Naked dragons are also available at $55.00 each.

To order a "Sleeping Dragon," write to Hal and tell him what color you want your dragon to be and which style you prefer. He's asking for up to six weeks for delivery, so you'll have to hurry to the head of the line if you want to get something done for the big Winter Holiday, or whatever you call December Gift Opening Day. Books

A Breviary of Torment, poems by Thomas Cashet, GLB Publishers, San Francisco, 1991. $13.95; 109 pages; illustrated, paperback.

Attempts to capture and communicate the essence of SM in poetry are going on all the time. I see a few dozen failed attempts in the manuscript mail here each year. Some fail only slightly, but SM verse is an area of writing which can not tolerate sentiment or error, and must grow out of passion and experience. It is a subject which must be dealt with unflinchingly or left to prose. "Breviary" is the nearest thing to true success I have ever seen. Cashet holds to his own high standard of vision and honesty throughout. If, here and there, a few lines seem suddenly to ring alarms of inconsistency—such as a phrase that instructs the Top in the midst of poetry with a deeply and thoroughly submissive narrator—so be it. The successes here are monumental. Poetry must codify and express what is otherwise indescribable or why bother with the demands of the form. Cashet understands this and does it, not as though it were easy (not like Frost) but as though it were the most important thing in the world (like Roethke).

If you can be touched by poetry at all, you must read A Breviary of Torment. Its sense and sensuality will reshape your feelings and thoughts about essential SM truths.

Urban Aboriginals: A Celebration of Leathersexuality by Geoff Mains, reprinted by Gay Sunshine Press, San Francisco, 1991. $14.95; 185 pages; illustrated with photographs by Robert Pruzan; paperback.

If you haven't already read (and kept) a copy of Mains' most important work, you now have another chance to get one. This is the book in which, under eight chapter heads and about 60 category titles, Mains explores the sense and significance of just about everything in gay male leathersex. From the leather itself to lasting relationships; from bondage and pain to endorphins and role playing, it's all here, examined and (in a fashion) explained by one of leatherdom's most knowledgeable writers.

The Advocate Adviser by Pat Califia, Alyson Publications, 1991. $8.95; 235 pages including Resource Guide; paperback.

Readers of Califia's advice columns in The Advocate and Advocate Men tend to quote her advice and share the facts she digs up at every opportunity. Now the process of checking citations and confirming facts will be a lot easier with about 200 questions and answers in one well-organized book.

Although Califia is a pretty kinky person, her columns are not just for kinky people. Questions come from everywhere, ask about everything, and get interesting and reasonable answers no matter how strange and unreasonable they are. But Califia's attitude is at least as important as the specific information and advice she gives. That attitude is well expressed in the closing lines of the book where she is laying out the definition of a "decent person" to a questioner who disparaged maleness as a richer field of perversion than femaleness: "Do you love yourself? Do you treat your partners well? Are you as honest with others as you can be without threatening your own survival?" And she adds queries about education, mutual defense, exploitation and oppression, ending with, "Are you kind, tolerant, ethical, and forgiving?" That's the Adviser mindset, and that's what makes Califia readable and interesting.

Whips & Kisses: Parting the Leather Curtain by Mistress Jacqueline (as told to Catherine Tavel and Robert H. Rimmer), Prometheus Books, 1991. $21.95; 237 pages; cloth cover.

Whips and Kisses is the autobiography of a self-described "bitch-goddess," a professional dominatrix working on the West Coast. She calls herself a "fantasy engineer," and argues well the case for SM being a matter of mutual pleasure, consent, and carefully considered safety. If you care to read a heterosexual female's take on SM as told to a hetero-vanilla readership, here it is. The life and thinking of Mistress Jacqueline are engaging. Her ideas and experiences may be much more like your own than you'd guess. Unfortunately, the writing (Tavel and Rimmer) doesn't match the material. Some of the chapters seem calculated to shock, others are just written so flat they don't even carry the element of surprise that the Mistress obviously intended. Nonetheless, the book is a ground-breaker. If you're a collector, this is one to collect. If you're a reader looking for interesting leather/SM material that is good reading, wait it out. After Whips & Kisses, there are bound to be other books written better on the subject of hetero SM.

America Living With AIDS: Report of the National Commission on Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, released September 25, 1991. Available from Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402.

This report is the result of the first two years of work done by the National Commission on AIDS. It is primarily a survey of the epidemic and a set of recommendations for public and governmental action. It is not enjoyable reading, not by any stretch of the imagination, but it is important, interesting, and very surprising.

The members of the commission are five Senate appointees, five House of Representative appointees, two persons appointed by President Bush, plus three non-voting members: the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Secretary of Defense, and the Secretary of Veterans Affairs. The members' very questionable origins notwithstanding, the commission has come to some sobering and realistic conclusions with which they start their report: "As the nation enters the second decade of the HIV epidemic, the accuracy of predictions [about the toll of the epidemic] made in the mid-1980s stand(s) as a silent rebuke" and "By the end of 1990, more than 100,000 people in the United States had died of AIDS, and nearly a third of those deaths occurred that year. Now more than a hundred people die in the United States every day of AIDS—one every 15 minutes—and the pace is accelerating."

If you have never quite felt the rage that drives groups like ACT-UP and Queer Nation when they protest government policies and inaction around the subject of AIDS, you need to read this government sponsored report. This commission would certainly have served its political self and its "masters" better if it had come back with a lengthy "proof" that everything that should be done was being done (covertly indicating that the dead and dying were not important Americans anyway), but they have, instead, understood the frightening proportions of the epidemic, and the role of government in fostering its deadly consequences by responding so inappropriately.

If you just want the facts about AIDS, the report will serve your purposes. If you want to load your personal "guns" for future political action, there's plenty of government-supplied TNT ready made in these pages. If you want to understand what could and should be done by governmental agencies, this report will go a long way to filling you in on the needs and possibilities.

The Twin Epidemics of Substance Use and HIV by the National Commission on Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (1730 K Street, Northwest, Suite 815, Washington, DC 20006. This slim little volume of 15 pages, plus notes and appendices, is almost as shockingly unexpected as the major report of the commission. It advocates the decriminalization of ownership/sale of "injection drug equipment" because, as everyone outside government circles already knows, the restricted availability of needles, syringes, and other equipment for injecting drugs is yoking AIDS to the already dangerous epidemic of drug use. The report is simple and to the point: Government and the law are, under prevailing conditions, worsening rather than improving the situation. Throughout, the report is an obvious indictment, exposing deep-seated wrongheadedness in high places.

ELECTEROTIC!

Caution: the basic rule in electrical play is the two leads must be arranged so there is no current running through the chest cavity.
Simplified: NO CONTACTS ABOVE THE WAIST!

Pleasure Box

SSCO is proud to announce our new state of the art two channel pulsed signal generator. Our new unit offers several improvements over any previous; stronger and more pleasant frequencies, can be used with up to four attachments (2 or 4 attachments on one person or 2 attachments each on two people), instant kill switches for each channel, provides a potential for interesting variations in delivery of the current. L.E.D. indicator lights so you can see the pulse of the unit. Includes AC adaptor or can be used with 9 Volt alkaline battery. Two intensity controls allow you to fine tune the sensations. Separate frequency and pulse rate controls offer the maximum range of stimulation variations. Also includes 2 sets of leads for attachments listed below. Absolute pleasure!!!! Includes full 30 Day Warranty.

DEA 005 $279.95 PLEASURE BOX W/AC ADAPTOR & 2 SETS OF LEADS.

Titillator

A battery operated one channel pulsed signal generator that is simple to operate and easily portable. Two intensity controls allow you to fine tune the sensations and separate frequency and pulse rate controls offer the maximum range of stimulation variations. The unit is 4 3/4" x 2 1/2 " x 1 1/2 and comes with a 9 volt battery and a set of leads. The name of this unit comes from "titillation" and it is NOT for use on the tits!

DEA 006 $119.95 TITILLATOR

Leads

These have small male bannana plugs on the electrode ends that are perfect for connecting to the electrodes on these lexan attachments.

The Titillator Leads have an appropriate plug at the power source end for your WalkMaster, Music Master or Titillator.

The All Purpose leads have the power source ends provided with Alligator clips that can be attached to a hand crank generator, Relaxacisor, or other power source.

DEB 011 $34.95 TITILLATOR LEADS
DEB 012 $34.95 ALL PURPOSE LEADS

Aquasonic 100

Ultra Sound Transmission Gel. Water soluble, non greasy and will not irritate tissue. Safe for external or anal application. Solution will add to electrical signal strength, ideal for use with cockrings, or whatever. 8 fl oz.

DEB 006 $7.95 AQUASONIC

Attachments

Pleasure Box, Relaxacisor, WalkMaster , Titillator or whatever you use, these attachments will provide hours of shockingly great sensations. Each piece has one or more receptor sockets for banana plugs (Relaxacisors fit!) and will also work with alligator clips or bare wires. These electrical attachment devices can be used with the units featured on this page and also work with WalkMasters, Relaxacisors, hand crank generators, and other similar devices.

Cockrings

Lexan cockrings are available in four inside diameters: 1 1/4", 1 1/2", 1 3/4" and 2". Each size is available with a single electrode and conductive material running the full circle, or with two electrodes and separate areas of conductive material on each half of the circle. Please specify size(s) when ordering.

DEB 001 $39.95 SINGLE ELECTRODE COCKRING

DEB 002 $39.95 DOUBLEELECTRODE COCKRING

>>>>>Save !!! Order two for $69.95 !!! <<<<<

Electric Butt Plug

The charge of a lifetime. A lexan butt plug with two electrodes that stimulate the anal sphincters. When used with a power source that has an adjustable pulse rate, this butt plug can become an actual fucking machine sliding in and out of the ass by itself (with proper setting on power source). Available in three sizes. Expensive but worth it.

DEB 007 $149.95 6" x 1 3/4" PLUG (LARGE)

DEB 016 $149.95 5" x 1 1/2" PLUG (SMALL)

Sparkler

This is a short length of conductive rubber (approximately 6" long by 1/8" diameter). Originally designed for anal insertion. If used with single electrode cockring, the current will pass from the front on the body through the prostrate into the ass. Can be used in any moist opening below the waist including the urethra, but if used for urethral insertion must be a one person toy. Caution this one delivers quite a jolt.

DEB 008 $39.95 SPARKLER

ElectroPlate

This is a concave oval of lexan with two electrode strips. Designed to stimulate the lips of the vagina, it also works well anywhere on the male body. Try it on the scrotum, inside of the thigh, on the bottom of the foot...

DEB 010 $59.95 ELECTRO PLATE

Vaginal Plug

Measures 5" x by 1 1/2" diameter with approx 5" base with 3 conductive surfaces, two 2" strips at the base of the plug and the third covering the rounded tip. Stimulate either the orgasmic platform inside the opening of the vagina, or switch one electrode and send the current to the tip of the plug while still maintaining contact on one side of the base of the plug. Base opening allows access to clitoris. Two ways to attack; externally and internally. Sensational !!!

Drummerboy of the Year

This year, in addition to the usual studio portraiture of regional Mr. Drummer titleholders, we captured some great action on film. Brace yourselves... this is hot stuff: 16 Mr. Drummer Finalists and 12 Drummerboys and a handful of their guests... super men from all over the USA, New Zealand, Australia, and Canada... at play!

And, also unlike previous years, we got some tremendous photography of every phase of the contest and of the winners.

We'll give you a good sampling of the Mr. Drummers and Drummerboys playing at the 15 Association's new dungeon space in the next issue of Drummer. Then, as the year progresses, we'll share more of the pictures with you.

At right: Your first glimpse of the pictures we're so pleased about. Here, Bill Miranda Salzman, Mr. Northeast Drummer, is "attacked" by Kevin Stedman, Eddie Christie, Todd Anglin, Mr. Great Lakes Drummer... and others.

Letters Home from the Fleet

by Lt. Rick Jackson, USN illustrated by Earl House

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Note: When a guy I know by the name of Rick Jackson deployed on a WESTPAC, he wrote home from his ship. I haven't heard from him in two or three weeks, but expect I will soon. Meanwhile, I thought you might want to check out the first half of his cruise—and our first time apart. The enclosed pages are photocopies. The originals are too stained for use. In the event you have questions about any of the words he used, I've included a decoding chart after his last note.

Daren Hildebrand
Barbers Point Naval Air Station

Yo, Daren

Well, as you can tell from your cold, empty, loveless bed, I made it from Barbers Point to WHIPPLE. I was right: the XO is a skate. He hadn't done shit about clearing out the hanger so we had a general cluster-fuck before the bird could get put away for the night. You know how little affection I have for frigates and how I feel about being away from you for six months of floating around the Indian Ocean so I won't go into all that again now. Just concentrate on what we'll be able to do with my sea- and flight-pay when I finally make it back to our bed of sin and the single tight pink pucker that feels best wrapped around my eight inches of stiff, hard lust. I expect you're probably already cruising for jarhead dick to take my place— just remember two things: I'll be back in six months, so don't let him get too comfortable on my side of the bed and don't you get used to being on top more than is good for you. If he wants to sleep on the floor like a spaniel at the foot of the bed, we might keep anybody you come up with around for awhile even after I'm back. You've got good taste, and I'm not sure any one human butthole will be able to handle the action I'll have ready by the time I get back.

I've already opened the first plastic bag. You were right again—they do keep our foxy smell bedroom fresh. My dick is stiffer than shit on a stick and it's only been fifteen hours since the end of our marathon farewell fuck. The one pair I've pulled out so far smell exactly as if you've just stripped them off your sweaty, cum-choked balls. The idea of your wearing them for two days instead of one works aces —but I got an even better idea on the flight out. From now on, why not wear them a couple of days, then wear them jogging or in the weightroom, and then peel them off your butt and put them straight into the plastic bag while they're still dripping with your dicksweat. That way your juice will keep them damp until they get to me and the smell of the crotch I love best in the world will come through five by five. Once every couple of weeks or so, if you'd like to strip back that monkey-skin of yours and twist a dickload of cheese off onto a pair, I wouldn't mind at all. Just be fucking sure you use the ass-end as dickwipe so I can lick it all off. Letting your super-nasty cockcheese get tangled up with seams and the fly would be worse than not having it at all. Then it would be just out of reach, not half-way across the fucking planet.

I'm writing this lying in my rack with the curtains closed and your shorts on my head. The ballsweat-stained crotch seams are on either side of my nose and every breath brings me back to the one-of-a-kind muskiness that lives between your thighs. It's almost as if I could reach out and strip back that 'skin with my tongue and suck your hard, pulsating joy-stick smack back into my throat to squeeze the spunk right out of you while you suck up everything I have. This pair—which seems to have spent considerable time caught in your buttcrack—conjures the waking dream of inhaling your full, ripe nuts, one at a time, to roll them gently across my tongue and then, when your pansy-assed moaning starts to piss me off, run my tongue down the dark, hot crack that guards your fuckhole. I see myself lapping like that fucking jarhead spaniel at your hole, as if by ripping off every molecule of your musk, I can somehow wear away your flesh and worm far enough into your body to satisfy myself that we are one. The smell of your body is too much.

My shotgun is still in the wardroom watching TV, so I'm going to put this pen down and start sucking on your sweaty shorts and pick up something a whole lot thicker and longer and likely to make me miss you just a little less.

Cute Stuff—I can hear Scott snoring in his rack, the sound of peace. I've had the worst night of my life. I made myself miss you twice just after taps right into your shorts and then slowly sucked my own jism out of them, pretending to myself it was yours. At least some of the musky, sweat-stained mansmell was you. Dried sweat may not sound like much, but deployed helo jockeys can't be choosers.

I woke up about 0200 and couldn't place what was wrong—then I couldn't feel the heat of your body and then felt the rocking of the ship and remembered. A quick trip to the head to pop another load into the CHT didn't help a bit—and was a damned waste of outstanding jism in the bargain. I finally gave up on trying to sleep about half and hour ago and have done your work for you twice more. In case you're not counting that makes five handjobs in practically as many hours—and I still feel hornier than fuck. What's worse, I miss the shit out of your cute little dimples and the shock of hair over your forehead when you sleep? Could this be love? Keep those shorts coming— and wear them jogging and lifting. That way not only will you help me out underway, but you won't be some grotesque porker when I get back to nail your ass to the mattress.

Daren— Finally, today we had mail call. Two lousy, fucking letters? OK, so they were both mailed within 48 hours of my flying off to leave you "stranded in paradise" as you put it. Believe me, WHIPPLE is no paradise. You got the better deal. I assume there's more than the one pair you included with your notes on the way. The t-shirt was a good idea. Until I lost myself in your pits, I hadn't realized how much of that I'd missed. Even the hint of Old Spice was a reminder. I hope we go to Bahrain so I can get you some decent stuff to wear, though. Old Spice was fine for my father, but somehow I don't think of you in the same way that I thought of him. I'm not complaining, though. I've made good use of the pairs that have lost their memory of you. The ships ventilators tear you away even from your shorts after only about a day once the bags are opened—then I put them on and wear them to sleep in. I guess that's silly, but so is being away from you.

A couple of nights ago we had a false "man overboard" alarm. They figure now the wind blew a life ring overboard and when it hit the water, naturally it set off the blinker light. The aft lookout waited thirty minutes (for which he was written up and restricted to the ship until early in the next century) and then turned in the man-overboard. Anyway, the CO took the chance of sending us up for a look-see before he alerted Alpha Bravo and stopped the whole battlegroup. It's appropriate somehow that I flew the first deployed night mission of my naval career in your dirty drawers.

Nothing much could go wrong with the world when I'm inside your shorts. I generally open a fresh bag just before I hit my rack and breathe you in as I fall asleep. A couple of mornings, lads from the det came to wake me up with some crisis or other and nearly found me snuggled face-down into a fresh pair, my dick grinding into the mattress. Since then I've been sliding them under the pillowcase before I doze off. The smell of you next to me is the only thing that keeps me sane. I've got only one week done—and twenty-five more to go! How is life possible? You'll notice, by the way, that I don't talk about the det in these handwritten notes. I've used the machine in the det office to bat out some less personal things that I'll send you with the next batch of MY shorts, but I want these notes to be just about us. About the only thing I may put here about the det are my pithy comments about our asshole OINC. I meant what I said before I left about finding someone to toy with. What's the point in both of us being miserable? I also meant what I said in my first note—make sure it's a marine. That way I know you'll be in a tight ass that you can't possibly take serious for more that a week or so. Just let me know EVERYTHING. I want a complete blow by blow description. Yes, what you see enclosed are five nasty pairs of my shorts. I've followed my own advice and made each a two-day wear and most of them have been through a lifting workout as well. I've even stuck in my workout shirt by way of reward. And you thought I wasn't the most generous faggot bastard around! I wonder what PC would say if he knew he was carrying our dirty laundry back and forth? I think US Customs also spot-checks the FPO mail, but I'll bet after opening one bag of my shorts, they'll leave the others alone! Why is it my shorts smell like dirty underwear and yours are so special? Maybe I do fucking love you? I know one thing for damned sure: absence makes the dick grow stiffer.

Yo, D—I'm glad Dirk is working out, though Dirk and Daren seems a bit much. Just remember that I am coming back. We'll see if his "twitchy little jarhead foxhole" is as tight as you say. The picture of me fucking you into a coma and then both of us pronging the shit out of your Dirk slithered into my nasty little mind the other night while I was nose-deep in your jock, pounding away for salvation. We'll have to doubledick him my first night back. If he's as tight as you say now, he sure as fuck won't be when he's had us both up his hole. By that time my jarhead opener will be swelled up just fine. Why do you suppose it is all jarheads love to be fucked? I know you can't get enough, but not everybody likes thick dick up his butt—but I've never seen a marine that didn't. I guess maybe that's why they put the marines and Navy in the same department—to give us handy holes to fill. Scott has been beating off every night after PI. You know, he's not such a bad guy, for a JG, and as shotguns go isn't bad, either. I figured he'd go bugfuck with the bitches in PI after being away from his new bride for a month, but he was back aboard drunker than shit every night. Since then I've been feeling his rack vibrate nights. . . . OK— let's talk about the tape stuck in among the shorts and jocks. When we got to Subic, I went over to our the Exchange snack-bar head. Those stories are true! There were a lot of Filipinos, too, but you couldn't swing a dick without hitting a lust-crazed jarhead in the face. Of course, the fact that both ENTERPRISE and BARBOUR COUNTY were in port didn't hurt any. I got hold of one—a lance corporal from California named Johnny SomeThingOrOther and I led him to a hotel in town for the night. The room set me back $5, but I was sure after seeing the desperate squint in my jarhead's eyes that I'd get my money's worth, so that's OK. The tape is your personal record of the noises we made during the first forty-five minutes of the most outrageous—and only—monkey-love fraternization I've had since I left Barbers. The next time you and Dirk get it on, try playing this one in the background. See if the racket your marine makes while you're porking the shit out of him can drown out Johnny. No weapon on the planet can break a marine butt open like the Jackson Jolter. Later on, I flipped the tape over to record the last forty-five minutes or so before we had to head back to base. Most of that, though, is just slurping and the sound of lips smacking against stiff dick in their quest for the sweetest, richest geedunk known to man. You have to remember what a slurper I am when I get something big and hard between my lips—and Jarhead Johnny makes me look like a Carmelite monk. The racket toward the end of the second side where the cats get thrown into the escalator is really Johnny having his fifth load of the night being ripped out of his war-worn balls by the extra-special super-suction you know so well. A couple of the dudes who rent pussy have taken their camcorders ashore to tape their memories. You can't walk past the First Class Mess without being dragged in to watch the things. I'm almost sorry I didn't think of video with Johnny, but I'll let you and Dick Head Dirk use your imaginations. I can imagine the unholy perversions you and he are getting up to in my bed while I'm gone, but young Johnny SomeThingOrOther won't walk like a normal human for at least a week.

Now that we're heading into the IO, it's the memory of those gyrene muscles wrapped around my good news will probably have to keep me company for one long time. I just want you, at home in a peace-time America, to know that no sacrifice is too great for us willing defenders of freedom in its hour of need. If you believe that, also be aware that the check is in the mail. I think I can guarantee that I won't come in your mouth (for awhile yet) and that I love you, no shit.

THANKS for the jumbo-load of drawers and jocks that met me in Singapore! Maybe if you prefer jocks, we should concentrate on those, though that one pair of Jockey's with the wad of cockcheese and extra-rude skid mark was something to behold with every sensor on MAX. Last night was a session I'll remember for a bit. I suspect what you're doing is putting my filthy fucking jocks on your faggot marine boyfriend while you fuck him up the butt and commit God-knows what other low, inhuman perversion. Sounds good to me, dude! Anyway, I'm sending off the usual shorts with this. I don't have a whole lot of time. Mail should secure any minute. We're transiting Malacca and after chow will rendezvous with the Malaysians to anchor off for joint operations and a week' worth of the old showing the flag shit. Fortunately, the det won't be part of this show, except for being charming to the Malaysians in the wardroom or, as the POD put it, "ensure that our guests, each a professional officer, leaves WHIPPLE with the best possible impression of her and of the United States Navy." Mainly I wanted you to know what a BLAST Singapore is. Everything you've heard about it is true. More about that with the slides and packages of shit I bought — yes, I got you ANOTHER leather jacket and some kinky shit I'll bet even you've not heard of to go with it! When you get it, though, be careful if you try the buttplug-ballgrip leather gismo out on Dirk. This morning I had a really weird talk with Scotty that proved not all JG's are shits. Then I had a much more surprising talk. I don't think you have run into him. Just before we shipped out, he arrived from somewhere in CONUS — Long Beach? Miramar? Who gives a fuck? He's what you, an original cute stuff stud, call the cute-stuff stud type: about 5'7", hard-packed muscle with the hair-free pecs, washboard belly, and the rest, Bambi brown eyes, cleft chin, pug nose, cut but perfectly-formed thin 9 inches (I happened to notice —after all he changes clothes about six inches from my rack, how could I help myself?). Maybe I'll send you a picture. Since he'd just gotten married two months before we deployed and wasn't about to be much help with my problem, I hadn't paid him much attention except to wonder why all the cute little-boy types were always straight and whether his wife could give him the kind of head you and I know I could. The weirdness happened just after officers' call. I had holed up at the Oberon down in Orchard Boulevard — yes, alone, damn you! — for a couple of days and had just made it back aboard in time to change into my uniform. Scotty pulled me aside and confessed, somewhat sheepishly, that he'd chased the wardroom crank away from my rack yesterday and, as a consequence, my sheets hadn't been changed. I must have looked blank a minute, because he said was warning me because he didn't want me going off on the crank about not changing my sheets. I still looked blank and he admitted he'd noticed I'd left "a souvenir" under my pillowcase and he didn't think I'd want the cranks to start talking about it . . . . I'm not sure how long the little bastard had known I was lying above him every night sniffing your dirty shorts and creaming my paw, but I obviously hadn't been as sly as I'd thought. You know as well as I do that the guys in our det know about you and me — and probably the rest of the ship does by now, too. Still, I see his point and he was being a lot more helpful and perceptive than I'd given him credit for. I thanked him and started off to the det office, partly to score coffee, partly to recover from the Anchor beer — one of two very good brews made in Singapore. You have to get here some day — preferably with me. Scotty ambled in about a minute after me, grabbed a cup himself, and beat around the bush for awhile. To cut to the chase, he figured we were in the same boat, so to speak, and should temporarily pool our resources. Neither of us had the hole we craved, but we did have two holes apiece and something to stick in them. Why not get together for the duration and see if we can't fly together aboard as well as in the air? Shit. They just passed the word that mail secures in ten minutes. Enjoy the shorts. I'll get your Singapore loot off before we head for the Gulf — if I can escape being charming to the Malaysians long enough. You know who I'd really like to be charming to. Meanwhile, I'll let you know what, if anything, happens with Cute Stuff II.

Daren — Light of My Life How's that for an opening? I haven't heard from you in four whole days now, so heaven knows what you and Dirk are up to. I can imagine. Do me a favor, dude. The next time you fuck Dirk up the butt, make him wear the special pair of shorts enclosed over his face. These are my new love-monkey Scott's. I had him pull them out of his laundry bag. He hasn't got any dirty shorts lately because except for about two hours of flight time, a couple of meals, and officers' calls, he hasn't been in shorts since we day before yesterday. We've been giving meals a miss for two reasons. First because we have three Malaysians fire control zeros aboard. The poor bastards are trying so hard to be likeable and are such strangers in a strange fucking land that you have to smile. Naturally we had cluster-fuck before they showed up because Malaysians are all Muslim — and can't eat pork, among other things. SUPPO sat down with MS1 and secured all the bacon, ham, sausage, and the like for the duration. Their first lunch was yesterday — a Wednesday. Naturally we had sliders. I made the mistake of sitting across from Scotty, to whom I've grown quite close lately. When the crank came and asked the dude next to me if he would like "soup before his sliders," I saw the guy's eyes cloud over for a second. A game guy, he asked what kind of soup it was and was reassured to learn it was mushroom. When the crank dragged the soup out, the guy asked him about the sliders. When he heard they were hamburgers, he went sort of cross-eyed for a minute, glanced at his mates at the table, and started on his soup. I knew what was coming and should have helped the guy out, but — well, you know what an asshole I can be. By the time he was finished with his soup, the CO and most of the rest of that end of the table had their sliders and were digging in. The crank came back for the empty bowl and asked if he was ready for his sliders; the dude said he didn't think he'd have any. Good guy Rick leaned over and whispered, "They're not really hamburgers — they're just called that. They're beefburgers — made from cow meat. They don't have any pig meat at all. In fact, the CO has taken all pig meat off the menu for as long as you are aboard." The little guy brightened right up, said he'd like two sliders, and jibbered what I'd told him in Malay to his buddies, who also breathed a whole lot easier.

I thought we were set until the crank came back with the slider and asked the luckless bastard what he wanted to drink — we had "bug juice, tea, or coffee." When he heard "bug juice," there wasn't much mistaking from his expression that these Americans were one fucked-up bunch. He thought for a second, hoping against hope that he was somehow wrong and yet unwilling to admit not knowing, so he asked what kind of bug juice we had. The crank told him it was cherry (rather, I suppose, than cockroach or grasshopper) and he ordered a glass. Naturally Scott was taking all this in, too; both of us had a very hard time keeping a straight face. I don't think anyone else even noticed. I know the idiot crank had no clue the confusion his "hamburger" and "bug juice" caused.

The second reason I haven't spent much time in the wardroom is that I've been spending it in Scott. I told you in my last note about our chat in the det office. Right after chow, I decided to turn in for a nooner to recover from the Anchors. Guess whose lips woke me up. He was leaning over my rack, head through the curtains, hands on your drawers, lips on my cock, slurping away as though I were an ice-cold Tasty-Treat and he were summer at Coney Island. For the first third of a second, I didn't know what to do. You know how long it takes me to wake up. I asked the dickraping bastard if he'd secured the door and he gave me a pat on the chest that either meant I was a good boy or he had. The next eighteen hours or so a blur. You know better than anyone else how hard it is to get a dick up my butt. I let Scotty do it — partly because I'm that horny, but also because he's got the perfect dick for it. He's about 9 inches long but very thin. He's got a dick just like a pig — though you being a city boy, that might not help. He humps like one, too. Still, he slides in and out without the agony your monster shaft causes, yet he can clip my prostate, slam into the end of my shitchute, and otherwise limber me up just fine. I offered to let him come over and fuck you up the ass when we got back, but he got all serious and said he was mine only for the cruise. Apparently the sap does prefer pussy. It always surprises me when I find a guy that does. It seems unnatural or unhealthful or something — but I suppose a lot of guys feel the same way about sucking dick.

Jesus, Daren, the guy can suck cock. I don't know what his history is — he's probably too hung up to give me the real scoop even if I asked him. He is no first-time cocksucker, though. Once I was awake and he could align his throat right, I slid into his gullet like a rotor through mist. I felt his hand on my balls and, moments later, his fuckfinger massaging my fuckhole. JarHead Johnny, the Subic Yowler, had been too long ago. I rolled out of my rack and into his butt like a pro. I probably took him off balance, but I didn't give a shit at that point, as long as I took him. I sure as shit did — up the butt, hard, and right on his fucking knees on the deck. Without the purr of the ventilator's everybody in Boys' Town would have heard the kid grunting and moaning like a cherry in the middle of a prison riot. After a few hard strokes, I could tell I had one of my frenzy-fucks coming on and managed to lift him off the floor with my dick long enough to get a pillow under his knees. We couldn't have him going to sick bay for knee and butthole burn! When I popped through into his hole, I knew at once that he was even shier about having company up his butt than I was. To say he was tight doesn't begin to tell the story. Just prying his cheeks apart was an effort. Any normal person would have given up getting a dick through his fuckhole. Fortunately for me, I'm abnormal. Once I got to the end of the line and ground my stiff pubes into what had, moments before, been the tightest ass in the Indian Ocean, I rested a bit — until he started breathing again. When he unclenched his jaw enough to whimper at me that I should be careful, I told him more or less that he'd asked for it, I loved his butt, and he should hang on and shut the fuck up. He hung on just fine, but he's even a louder fuck than you are. Every time I slammed into him and he let one of his grunt/moan/whimpers gush out, I expected to have XO pounding on the door. At first I humped over his back like a like a cur over a bitch, humping with my tail so my dick cut up into his guts. The grunts and cries were such a turn-on, though, I figured I needed to see his chicken-stud face. I flipped him over and dropped his butt onto the pillow. His shoulders and head hit the deck, but they weren't going to get much action for awhile.

When his legs locked around my butt, when his heels slid into the crack you'd love to call home, when I looked down into those eyes echoing the agony and pleasure of my dick, I was turned on by being up inside that boyish, manly body. You know what else I was turned on by? Wrong — by the image of having you up there with me, both of us fucking away together like a team of craftsmen doing the Meisterwerk of a lifetime. I must fucking love you. I sure loved the shit out of Scott, grinding and pounding and slamming away without much concern for the body surrounding my dick or the shotgun who wasn't such a bad guy or still less about the XO and whether he was going to pound on the door. During those fifteen or twenty minutes, I'd have been glad to fuck the kid up the butt with the CNO taking home movies — but then I always was something of an exhibitionist. Towards the end of that first load, Scott's eyes stayed shut longer and longer as I slid in faster and harder and deeper, so I probably did tear him up some. He is a game little camper, though. By the time I reached down to latch my teeth onto his muscle-bound shoulder and let myself slip by easy degrees from being a super-cool US Navy helo jock into the savage, rutting beast you know and love, I'd thought of you about twice with every stroke of my cock up into that boy's guts. In a larger sense, when my balls shot their searing load up through the dick you still presumably love above all others, it was you I was juicing with my joy. I don't know how long we rocked together there on the deck, cur and bitch, stud and stud, joined head and tail, but when I'd finally pumped myself dry and discovered I was just dry-humping him, I slid my stiff cock out of his tormented butthole and collapsed beside his sweat-stained body onto the floor. He gave a sigh and a wince and said, "Well, I hope you're satisfied."

Ever the macho stud helo jock, I gave my stiff joystick a twang and let his buttjuice splatter onto my belly as I said, "Not yet, but by the time I get back to Barbers I expect I will be." Yeah, I know you want to know the rest of the dirty details — but that's enough for now. I already told you I let the little mink fuck me. The last day or so we've spent so long in the 69 position, I've worn a chin-sink in his belly. It does look like, though, that we'll make it through until December. There's talk of us getting back two weeks early — but I wouldn't kick Dirk's butt out of bed until you actually see me standing in the door. I've heard that sometimes the Nav changes its mind. Could this be true?

Now that we're heading away from the battle group and shore for a time, it may be a month or six weeks before we get mail! Yeah — a bummer. I may have to wear clean shorts! The important thing, though, is that you shouldn't think I've given up on you. I'll get back to you ASAP. The mail is about to secure, so use the enclosed goodies with relish — a little mustard might be nice on my skid marks. I think you'll see he's got a different musky scent than me — but don't get too used to it. He still claims he's heading back to his pussy when we get back. Go figure.

Why not send me a pair of Dirk's drawers? Above all, keep yours coming — one shipment every ten days or so should work just fine. Meanwhile, remember that while little Scotty's butt and throat may get most of my joint and all my jism for the duration, you'll have ALL my love . . . RJ

A NavSpeak Primer

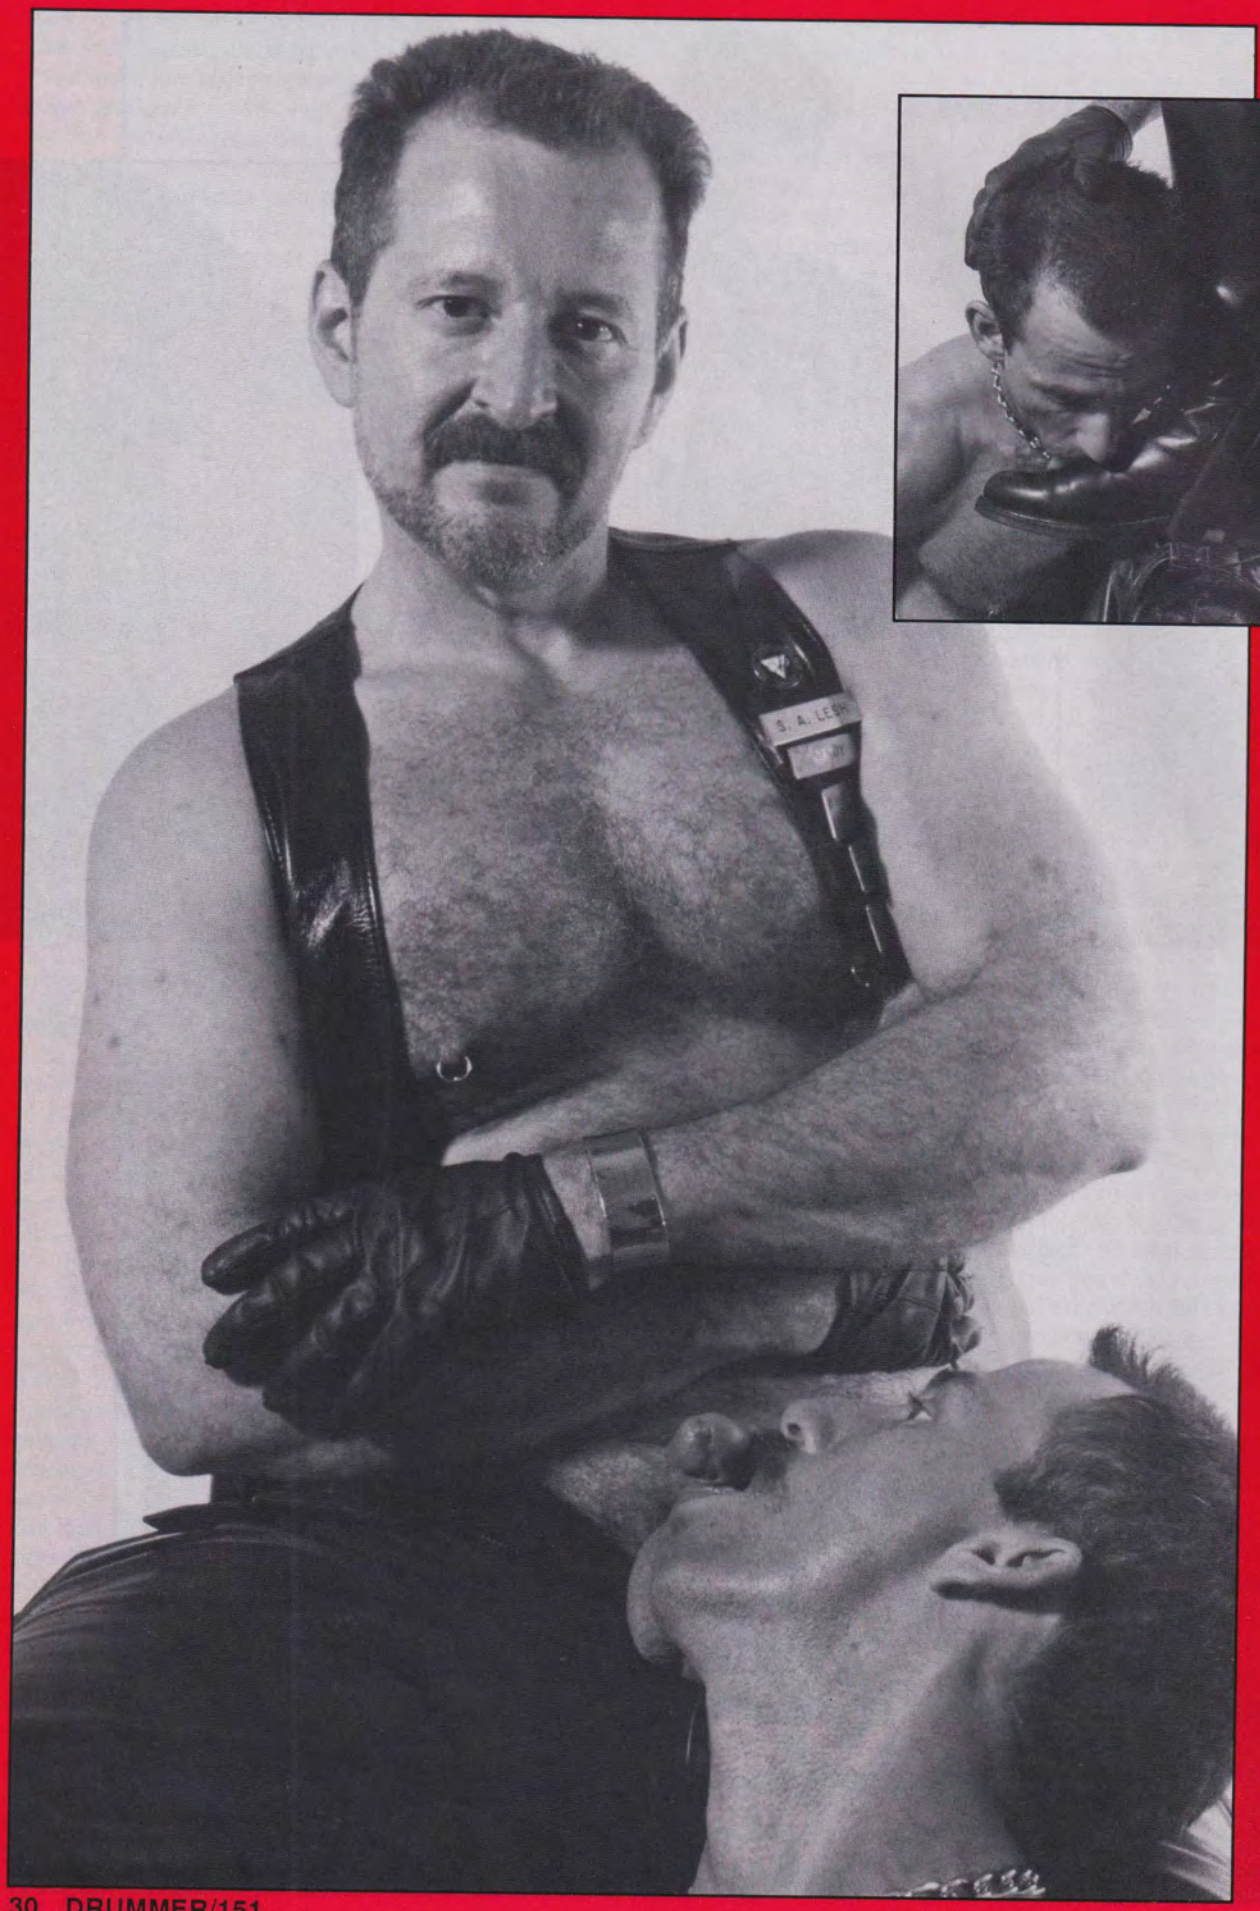

ALPHA BRAVO: ALPHA is jargon for the admiral commanding the battlegroup, in this case BattleGroup Bravo. AFT LOOKOUT: A man stationed to observe the stern of the ship and what lies beyond it. USN ships travel "dark," meaning without exterior lights (excepting two small lights high on the mast) so one must take care walking outside (on the "weatherdecks") after sunset. BIRD: In this case, the helicopter. BOY's TOWN: On WHIPPLE and other Knox-class frigates, a portion of the after (back) 0-1 level (first flight up from the main deck) where junior officers' staterooms are located. BUG-JUICE: a powdered instant fruit-flavored drink sometimes mistaken for Kool-Aid until tasted. USN bug-juice is made for a drink at meals, and (without the sugar) used to clean brass fittings, strip wax from decks, and the like. CHT: The ship's sewerage. CLUSTER-FUCK: A fuck-up of extraordinary dimensions, where nothing goes right and nobody knows shit. CNO: The Chief of Naval Operations. CO: The Commanding Officer, the captain of the ship or commander of the unit. CONUS: The CONtinental US. CRANK: Every squid must do a 90-day stretch cranking, serving as a cook or steward. The best cranks work in the wardroom; on some ships they tidy up zeros' staterooms as well as serve food and keep the wardroom tidy. DECK: the floor or ground. DET: Detachment, a group of men attached temporarily to a ship for a deployment. FIRE CONTROL: Aiming weapons. NOT controlling fires aboard—that is called DC: damage control. FIRST CLASS: Fairly high ranking enlisted folks. Enlisted ranks go SEAMEN: Recruit, Apprentice, Seamen; PETTY OFFICER: Third Class, Second Class, First Class; CHIEF PETTY OFFICER, SENIOR CHIEF, MASTER CHIEF. FIVE BY FIVE: clear, without interference (radio jargon). GEEDUNK: Candy, snacks, chips, etc. Munchies. GO OFF ON: To yell at, to denounce. HEAD: the crapper. HELO: helicopter. IO: The Indian Ocean. JARHEAD: United States Marines. JG: Lieutenant Junior Grade, one step up from an ensign, one step below a lieutenant. LAMPS: Light Air-Borne Multi-Purpose System, a small helicopter based aboard a frigate or destroyer and designed to conduct ASW OPS (anti-submarine warfare operations). MESS: place where food is eaten; cafeteria. MS1: Mess Specialist First Class, a food-service worker who has risen to supervisory level. OFFICERS' CALL: The muster of officers for briefing and bitching out at 0730 Monday - Saturday. Aboard WHIPPLE, usually held just aft of Boy's Town. OINC: The Officer in Charge of a unit like RJ's. DET PASS THE WORD: "announce a message" over the 1MC (the ship's public address system). PC: postal clerk, the ship's postman. PI: The Philippine Islands. POD: The Plan of the Day, the ship's newsletter and events schedule; required reading. RACK: bed, on ships, depending on rank and the configuration of the ship, generally about 6' X 30". Surrounded by curtains, they are the extent of a squid's privacy. SECURE: To tie down, make fast, close out, close, shut, lock, deprive of, etc. Usually guessable from the context. Here "secure the mail" means to seal postal bags for a mail shipment off the ship. Mail not given to the PC before mail is "secured" must await the next shipment, sometimes days or possibly weeks off. SKATE: Either someone who does no work and is lazy, or the act of being a SKATE. (Jack is always skating when he should be working.) SHOTGUN: co-pilot. SQUIDS: sailors, seamen. SUPPO: The Supply Officer, in charge of supplies, ship's messing, laundry and retail sales facilities. TAPS: At 2200 each night, the 1MC passes the word: "Taps, taps, Lights Out. All hands turn in to your own bunks. The smoking lamp is out in all berthing areas... Now, taps." In other words, if you're not working, you should consider going to bed. If you're up, watch the noise and don't smoke in sleeping areas. WARDROOM: The officers' saloon, combination dining hall, lounge, meeting facility. Also used to describe the zeros who eat there. WESTPAC: A six-month deployment of a ship or battlegroup to the Western Pacific, often extended to include the IO and Arabian Gulf. XO: The Executive Officer, second in command of a ship or unit. ZERO: an officer (so called because of their pay-grades O-1, O-2, etc.) Note: Many terms above (squid, zero, jarhead, etc.) are used freely inside the community they describe but are not acceptable for use outside it. A "squid" who called a "jarhead" a jarhead would find himself the object of attention.

In Enemy Hands

Story and Art by ETIENNE

He had known from the beginning, of course, that along with the adventure there came a certain amount of danger. He had heard stories of many mercenaries who'd gone to fight in the Central American jungles and had never returned to the USA. These lusty, hired soldiers in the pay of foreign governments accepted the fact that some of them would be captured by the enemy, tortured, and perhaps even killed. But the smart ones buried that possibility in the back of their consciousness and went about their well-paid soldiering. Some were lucky and avoided capture or that fatal bullet. Others were not so fortunate.

Captain Randall had been one of the lucky ones. For two years he had led his men through the war-torn jungles, engaging bands of hostile forces in deadly skirmishes with never more than an occasional, superficial wound to mar his massively-muscled body. But luck finally ran out for the virile captain, and now he found himself captured by an enemy platoon, nervously awaiting whatever sadistic tortures the swarthy captors had planned for him.

He had been stripped of his sweat-stained uniform and tied between two trees, arms stretched painfully, forcing him to stand on tiptoe to avoid as much pain as possible in his shoulder sockets. A grapefruit-size rock had been hung from his massive balls by a thin leather thong. Even the smallest movement of the captain's hips caused the dangling rock to sway and pull the stretched scrotum even further from the dank, hairy crotch. Randall's forehead dripped perspiration, his strong, square unshaven jaw clenched at the almost-unbearable agony the weight was inflicting on his nuts. But no sound came from his tightly-clamped lips; he was a soilder, by god, and damned if he'd give these bastards the satisfaction of hearing him scream or whimper.

Randall's bravado faltered a bit, however, when the group of unkempt guerrilla fighters who had been huddled in a group some yards away engrossed in a spirited discussion, all turned toward the bound captive and started walking towards him. The glint in their eyes and the evil smirks upon their lips clearly indicated that more punishment and humiliations were in store for the muscular but helpless gringo mercenary.

One of the grinning, moustachioed guerrillas stood in front of Randall, staring deep into the American's blue eyes. And, as Randall watched, the dark-skinned bruiser began to slowly peel off his uniform. The captain tried to tear his eyes away from that steady, intense gaze, but he could not. He felt his mouth go dry with some un-named dread.

Soon the Latino warrior had bared his beefy body. His bullet packed bandolier still draped over one shoulder served to emphasize the nakedness of the torso, as did the boots and the pants that were puddled about his ankles. Randall did not see these details, however; his attention was riveted on the stiff, pulsating, throbbing cock that jutted from the man's pubic bush like some obscene battering ram. Fresh sweat broke out on the Captain's brow as his mind began to grasp the significance of the wrist-thick hard-on being presented for his "inspection."

A barely audible groan welled up in the Captain's throat as the grinning Freedom Fighter circled around behind the helpless American Soldier. The groan sputtered into a strangled, "No... no... don't...." as Randall felt the juicy tip of the man's tumescent cock jab against his hair-ringed, virgin asshole.

Ignoring the captain's protests, the rapist savagely punched his enormous dick into the virgin asshole in one brutal, merciless thrust, ripping the delicate tissues of the rectum. The captive officer threw back his head and screamed in agony, his muscular legs jerking out in uncontrolled spasms as he tried in vain to lift himself off the monstrous rod upon which he was skewered.

The rapist's comrades formed a circle around their buddy and the gringo, and cheered him on, laughing lustily at the captain's high-pitched screams, and shouting lewd encouragements and even applauding the first gushes of blood that dripped down the creamy white insides of the Americano's thighs from the well-plunged asshole.

"Take it out... take it out.... for god's sake.... oh jeezus. It's too big... please.... I'll tell you whatever you want to know... only please... no more...." The captain's screams had escalated to frenzied pleading, his manhood shattered to smithereens along with his bloodied cherry.

The Latino warrior fucked like a man possessed. His lean hips powered the pistoning rod in short, vicious jabs, so rapidly that the shit-streaked cock was a blur as it pounded Captain Randall's butthole, churning the screaming soldier's ass-juices, rectal blood, and smashed turds into a slimy froth.

When the captive's asshole had been reamed out and stretched beyond recgnition, a long wooden club, like a policeman's nightstick, was forced up the ruined bunghole, sliding in alongside the thick, hot cock. The muscular captain shrieked and fainted as he felt his insides being ripped to shreds by the double insertion.

They revived him after a dozen or so of the guerrillas had screwed his gaping, bloody asshole. They wanted him awake when they applied the electrical current to his hunky, sweaty body, so they could enjoy his screams and shrieks.

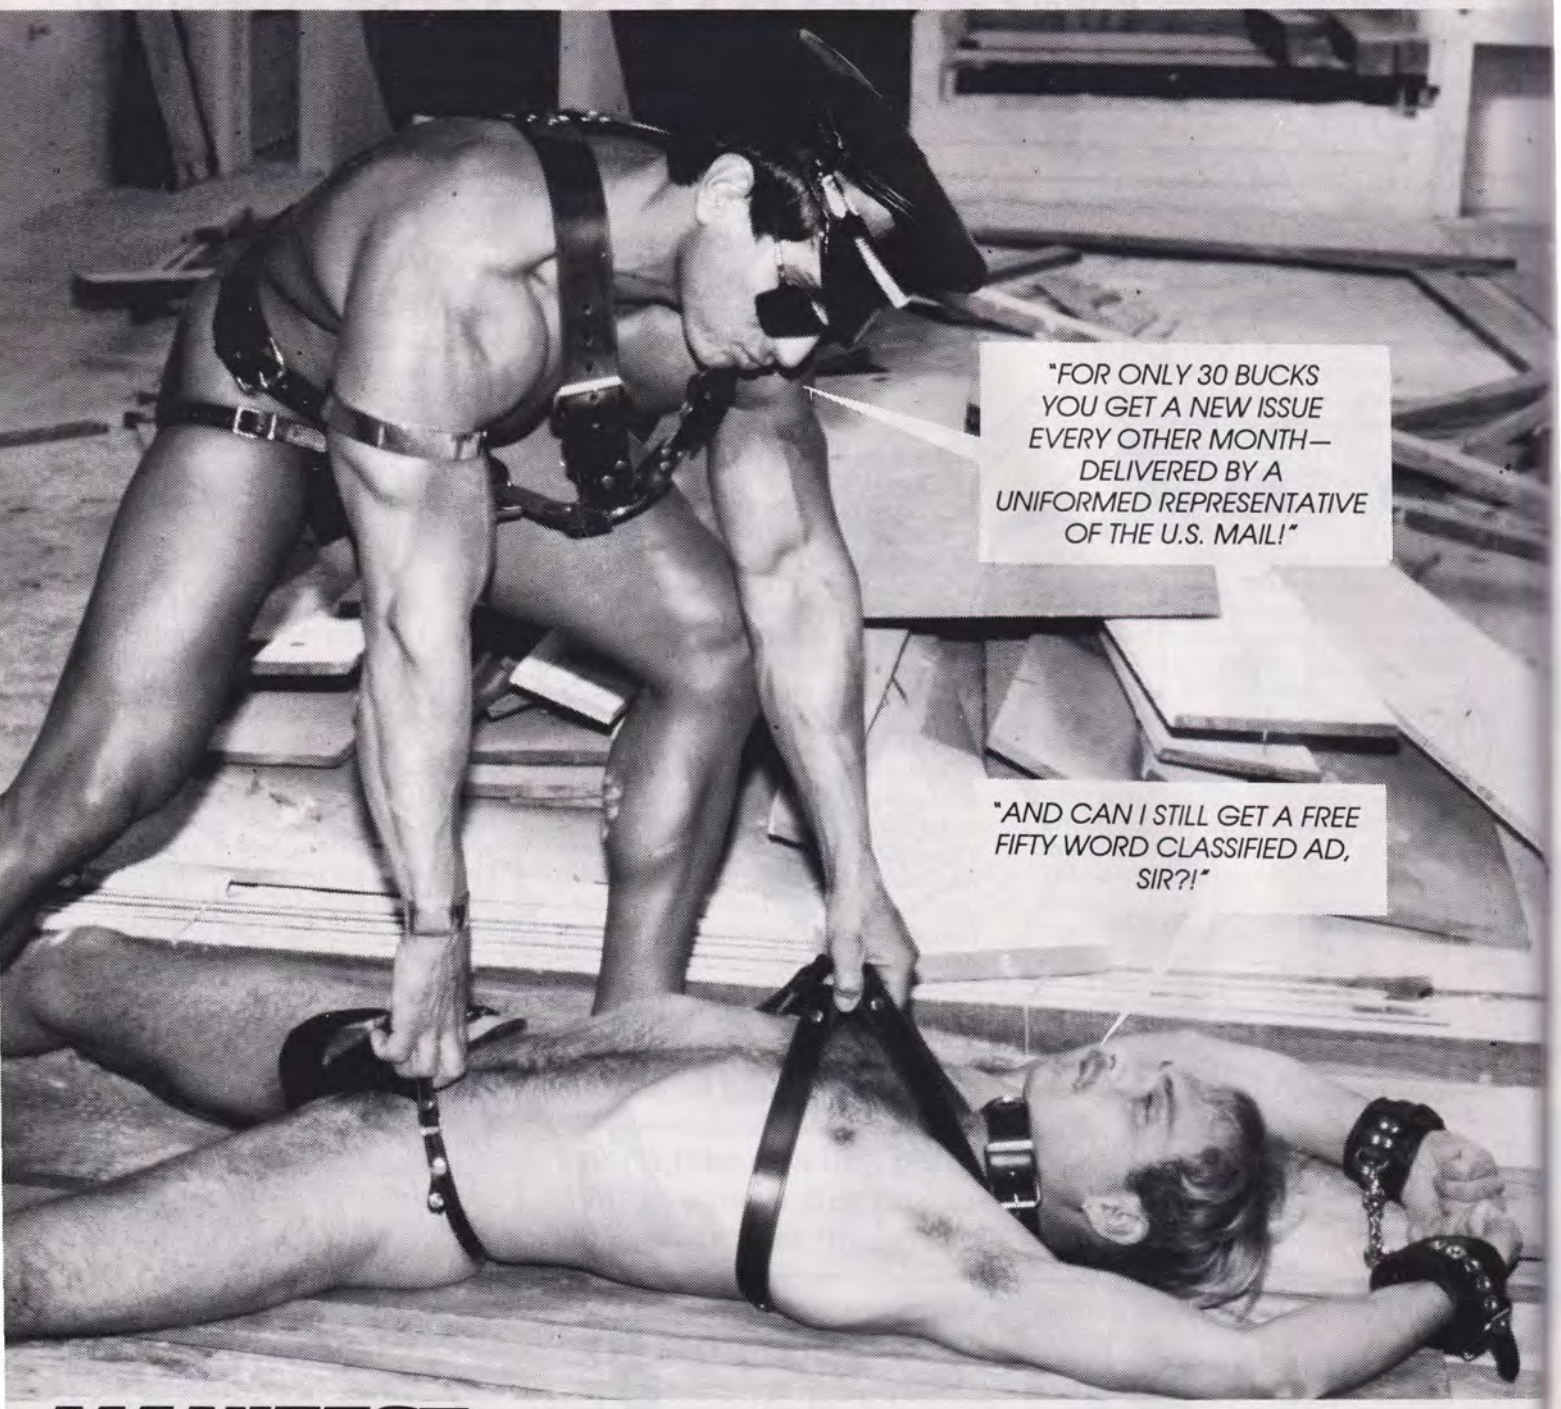

Ignoring the captain's protests, the rapist savagely punched his enormous dick into the virgin asshole in one brutal, merciless thrust, ripping the delicate tissues.

By morning, the captain's mind had snapped. The once proud and virile mercenary warrior hung limp and slack-jawed between the two trees, his fine, powerful body bleeding and mutilated. Before breaking camp, the guerrilla fighters had castrated their prisoner. It was their ultimate act of contempt for this drooling thing that was no longer a man.

And that's how the captain's platoon found him later that afternoon, strung up like a side of beef, dripping blood from asshole and crotch, half-dead, and de-balled, the severed nuts lying in the dust at his feet.

poet" Gavin Geoffrey Dillard, an interview with Newsex publisher Steve Dambach, naked guys with long hair and what one article calls "freak power." It's 50 pages of hippie ramblings and explosive self-expression for $4.95. Will there be more issues? Unlike most 'zines, this one not only promises an upcoming second issue, but lists its contents: art by TC, preview of an illustrated book by Robin Walden, something by/about Jack Fritscher, something about Wilhelm Reich, and of course more naked hippies.

Bulk Male, published by Big Bull Inc., Box 30052 Denver, CO 80203. This is a new quarterly magazine—slick paper, black and white with a touch of second color—about bulky guys. In introducing his new periodical, publisher Rich Berglund refers to it as "the only nationally based publication for large men and their counterparts." Exactly what that means is a little unclear since there is a display ad on that very page for another big boys publication, The Big Ad. Anyway, Bulk Male is an excellent, full-range mag for men who think big is beautiful. And, what's more, the photo shoots here go a long way toward proving that big can be beautiful.

Besides photo spreads, Bulk Male also carries listings of clubs, personal contact ads, fiction, and articles. The publisher's take on "bulk" is not all about tubbiness and a big gut either, a couple of the models would be cheered and welcomed by crowds that definitely don't like bears.

Subscription rates for Bulk Male: $24.95 for one year; $44.95 for two. Checks in US currency made payable to Big Bull Inc. at the above address.

Genre, from Genre Publishing, 8033 Sunset Blvd. #261, Los Angeles, CA 90046. This is another new "generic" gay quarterly. I'm sure the publisher and staff would not like that characterization of their efforts, but it's more than a take off on the name they chose to publish under. It's the truth. Genre, although it has a few good things in it, is a fairly ordinary effort as of its third issue (Fall 1991).

It certainly holds little of special interest to Drummer readers. Here we have an extremely L. A. take on gay life, even if the main features are Battered Husbands (non-consensual violence in gay male relationships) and San Francisco (called the former center of male hedonism, but said to be getting better these days). We have bitchy-queeny stuff ("Trashy gossip and catty exchanges [with a work-out partner] are not to be uttered in the workout area--the acoustics are much better in the locker room." We have literary interviews, a cooking column, a section devoted to fashion (with all the male models wearing 'drag' wigs to no particularly good effect), profiles of near-famous people, an AIDS column, and reviews of music, books, and videos. All in all, not very exciting... and yet, I am very eager to see what Genre may grow into. There is a "something" here that seems almost promising.

ONE CALENDAR

Every year there are lots and lots of calendars published that would seem to be for gay men. A certain percentage are especially aimed at leathermen. And, most years, there really aren't any I find all that good. Either they are okay pictures in terrible calendars—mistakes, no writing space, bad mechanical or artistic design, etc.—or they have terrible art works and/or photographs, in which case who cares about the calendar itself. Often both the pictures and the calendar are bad. Ouch!

Last year, I discovered (by way of an ad in this magazine) the Forge Leather Calendar.

What is exciting about the Forge Leather Calendar is a simple, real-people feel to the photography. This is about as far from Colt as you can go and still use a camera. And, much as it may only be a matter of taste, for my taste, the guys in the Forge pictures are hot, hot, hot. The calendar itself is bilingual since Forge is in Toronto where bilingual is good politics, good business, and good neighborliness, and it has a few non-American oddities about it. There is no Halloween, for instance, although both US and Canadian Thanksgiving Days are marked. All in all, I will have the Forge Leather Calendar on my wall for the photos (yes!), and the date-squares are... adequate anyway.

CUMMING DISTRACTIONS: Next time we'll look at about 20 new(ish) videos, including some from producers completely new to us, and and a few more books too, including a new Sam Steward.

Anal Pleasure & Health

SECOND EDITION

Jack Morin, Ph.D.

In these days of doubt and fear it is always a pleasure to find a book that gives positive, sound, research-based information on anal sexuality while dispelling the myths. It is commonly believed that people who regularly enjoy sensual erotic anal stimulation inevitably run a greater risk of developing medical problems. The belief is that one must choose—either anal pleasure or anal health. For many, the strength of this conviction has been intensified even further by the AIDS crisis.

In Anal Pleasure & Health, the reader will discover that there is no inherent conflict between anal pleasure and anal health. On the contrary, a person who wishes to expand his/her capacity for enjoying anal stimulation is advised to take virtually the same steps as the person who desires optimum anal health.

Dr. Morin covers such forbidden topics as anal self-exploration, locating and exercising anal and pelvic muscles, stress and tension release through anal stimulation, proper douching and lubrication techniques, physiological aspects of "fisting," confronting the taboos concerning feces, homophobia and masculine/feminine roles, oral-anal stimulation (rimming) and even suggestions on finding a sympathetic physician.

Now in its second edition, Anal Pleasure & Health contains full research data, bibliography, and an entirely new section on common medical problems of the anus and rectum, which includes a comprehensive discourse on AIDS and coping with the crisis.

HIS BOOTS

By E. Michaels Illustrated with photography by Jim Wigler

I was headed south on I-5 in Oregon and pulled into one of those rest areas they have all up and down the state. I'd been up to Seattle visiting friends and was on my way back to San Francisco.

I heard the hand dryer going in the men's room before I got inside. When I walked in there was a truck driver drying his hands right beside the door. This guy was like something out of a macho bear lover's dream! I quickly zeroed in on a dark brown head of hair and a full beard to match. He had on a plaid shirt and dirty 501s.

The best part, though, was his boots. They were those black steel-toed jobs with Vilbram soles and logger heels. They had a little leather kiltie right at the base of the tongue where the laces start.

I couldn't help myself—I got hard. My eyes worked their way back up this butch trucker's body. I noticed a bulge in his jeans, one that wasn't there before. By the time I looked up at his face,I saw he was staring at me, too. He had me in an 'eyelock' and just stared hard for what seemed an eternity. Finally, he looked at the hand dryer as it shut off.

I was so hard I had to go into a stall. I couldn't whip out my rod at one of the urinals in that condition. Besides, I really needed to piss and certainly wouldn't have been able to with that furry hunk staring at me. I finished and came out of the stall hoping he would still be there.

He wasn't.

I walked outside with my heart pounding. I'd never done anything like follow a trucker before but this guy was different. He had such an animal sexuality about him, I just had to see if he was still around.

I saw him sitting sideways in the blue cab of a semi that had the name of some Oregon dairy on the door. The cab door was open and his boots were hanging down under the door. I got hard. Again.

Walking up to the truck, I looked up at him as I rounded the door into his view. His hand was on his jeans covering a raging hard on. He swung his feet into the cab and said "Get in on the other side." When I walked around the truck, the door was open and I climbed in.

It was the first time I'd had ever seen inside the cab of a rig and it exceeded even my fantasies. I pulled the door shut and inhaled the smells. It was a heady combination of sweat, leather, grease and cigar smoke. I looked at his face and he smiled.

"Do you like these boots, Kid?" I nodded and he lifted his right foot onto the seat and pushed my face down onto it i one deft athletic motion. "Then show me and lick 'em clean." I did. Again, I had never actually licked someone's boot before, only in my fantasies. It was a strange and incredibly sexy sensation for me.

The powerful gloved hands held my face on the leather. When I'd finished cleaning this big man's boot, he switched and had me clean the left one. When he decided I'd cleaned both boots well enough, he shoved my face into his crotch and said "It's all yours, kid. But first I give you the ground rules." He grabbed me by the hair and pulled my face close to his. He smelled so good, so masculine, I almost came in my jeans right there!

"The rules are simple—you NEVER speak unless I tell you to and you need to wear my little belt." I nodded agreement to the first rule (God, I would have taken an eternal vow of silence just to get at this guy!) and waited for the second rule to be explained. I couldn't figure out what sort of belt he was talking about. He reached behind the seat and pulled out a wide leather belt with handcuffs attached. I'd seen those things in movies. They're the sort of thing prisoners always wear when they are handcuffed in court. Hey, if this guy wanted me for his 'prisoner', I was definitely all for it!

He fastened the belt buckle behind me and clicked the cuffs around my wrists. Another new experience--I liked it and so did my dick. When he was satisfied I was not going to use my hands, he grabbed my chin and stuck a gloved finger into my mouth. I sucked like a new born on it's mamma's tit. He chuckled and unfastened his 501s.

I could hardly stand the suspense and wasn't disappointed. His cock wasn't a long one but it was fat and straight. I licked and sucked while he held my head almost rigid. Man! This guy smelled good. I wanted to lick his balls but he held my head down on his thick meat. He started to humping and face-fucking me. It was a weird feeling wanting to grab and caress those tree trunk thighs and not being able to move my hands.

He started to come and just kept it up. He would grunt and I'd think he was finished and then more ropes of his sweet jism would pump out of his fat dick. I kept sucking and swallowing not wanting to miss a drop of his nectar. Finally, he pushed me back away from his crotch and wiped his dick on my moustache. "Man, you're good," He said as he patted my head like a dog's. "Thank you, Sir," I said and looked up at him.

His gloved hand cuffed my right ear. The noise startled me as much as the hand had hurt. "You forgot rule number one, Asshole!" I looked down, dejected. I wasn't sure why but I wanted this man's approval. He laughed and said, "No harm done, just remember your place and we'll get along fine." I looked and nodded, smiling.

He turned me toward him on the seat and pulled my cock out of my jeans. He put his boot on the seat directly under my crotch and said, "Now it's your turn. Since you showed me how much you like my boots, I want you to jerk off on them for me." It wasn't easy with my hands cuffed to my waist but I found I could do it with a little twisting and turning.

This man was so hot! I had no trouble coming all over the top of his boot. I looked into his deep brown eyes and he just held me with his stare. I came in electric jolts that surprised me with their intensity. When I was finished, he made me lick my cum off his boot and make sure it was clean again. I was beginning to like this....

He told me I had two choices. I could leave now and that would be the end of it or I could ride home with him. He made the same trip every day and would be passing by the rest area again tomorrow. My car would be safe enough in the parking area over night. I opted for the second choice and rode home with this incredibly sexy man in the blue semi. I was surprised at how comfortable the cuffs were with my hands in my lap.

When we got to his living room, he had me kneel. I thought I was going to be allowed to suck his dick again. Instead, he started to pee in my mouth. I tried to jerk away but his strong hands held my head steady. "Just swallow like a good boy. You'll get use to it." I couldn't see his face but I suspected he was smiling. I had never tasted a man's urine and was surprised at the flavor. He was right, I did get use to it. I even liked it because it was his and I wanted to please him.

He fixed dinner and told me to get down on my belly under his chair with my head between his feet. While he ate dinner I lay on the floor with my head clamped tightly between his boots. His legs held my head so I couldn't pull it away. I had my face pressed against the top of his boots and I breathed in the heady aroma of his booted feet. I couldn't help myself, I kissed and licked the leather while I dry-humped the floor.

After his dinner, he had me help him take off his boots. I was forced to lean against the couch and he used my shoulders as a footrest. The smell of this man's feet drove me wild! He watched television as he hugged my head and neck with his feet in their white tube socks. I kissed, rubbed and sniffed in the wonderful smells from this man. Every now and then he would ruffle my hair as if he were showing affection to a dog.

When the news was over, he turned me around to face him. His hard cock was once again shoved down my throat and I lovingly serviced the man who had become my master in a few short hours. This time he took much longer to come and seemed to enjoy my mouth much more. When he came, he held my head down on his dick and rocked me as though I were a child. "You sweet baby," he kept repeating, whispering in my ear. I was so hot for this man, I would have done anything he asked at that point.

He made a little pallet on the floor next to his bed for me to sleep on. I was disappointed we weren't going to go to bed together. He took off the belt and handcuffs long enough for me to get undressed. He gave me a pair of sweats with a hooded sweatshirt to wear. He was so much larger than I, there was a lot of room in the sweats. He put the belt and cuffs back on me and told me to go out in the living room and bring his boots to him.

"Stand there and don't move!" His hands pulled down the sweats I'd just put on. He pulled off one of his tube socks and put it over my rigid dick. Then, he pulled out the lace from his right boot, rolled the top down backwards over the heel and folded the tongue back. He stuffed my cock and balls with the sock into the boot so my balls were tightly nestled in the boot's heel and my dick was pointed up into the toe. He pulled my sweats back up and tied them over the boot on my crotch. He had me lie down on the pallet and stuffed two pillows under my stomach so the boot was supported between them. I was actually going to fuck this man's boot!

By this time I was going crazy. This man was my boot fantasy come to life! I saw him take the lace out of the left boot and run it through the top holes. He shoved my face into the boot so the top was headed down my neck and my nose was buried up to the start of the tongue. If I crossed my eyes I could see the little leather kiltie that stuck out just below the lace holes.

"Don't worry, Kid, You'll be able to breathe," he whispered as he laced the boot tightly to my face. He was right, I could breathe. He pulled the tongue back and laced it over my eyes so I couldn't see anything. Then he pulled the hood up over my head so the only thing he could see was the Vibram sole of his boot sticking out of the hood where my face should have been. The smell of his boot! The warmth and darkness--that, combined with being totally controlled drove me wild with lust.

He held my head and whispered, "Make love to my boots, baby. Kiss them and show me how much you want them." That was all I needed. I slowly kissed and licked the inside of the boot on my face while I fucked the other one. He bound my ankles with his belt, covered me with an Army blanket and got into his bed. I could hear him beating off as I silently made love to this man's boots.

The following morning he left me bound while he showered. I was then untied and the boots were taken off after he was dressed. He unlocked one handcuff and told me to put his boots on him and lace them. When I finished, he needed to pee and I serviced my man willing this time. He kept his cock in my mouth when he finished and face-fucked me. He came quickly and forced me to come on his boots like before. When I finished cleaning all my jism from his boots, he put the other dirty sock from the day before on my cock and shoved a large butt plug in me. It was a bit uncomfortable, but he made me sit on the bed. He stood back and looked at me. Then, he leaned forward, pulled my face toward his and kissed me long and hard. He looked at me with those big brown eyes and said, "You're gonna do nicely, Kid."

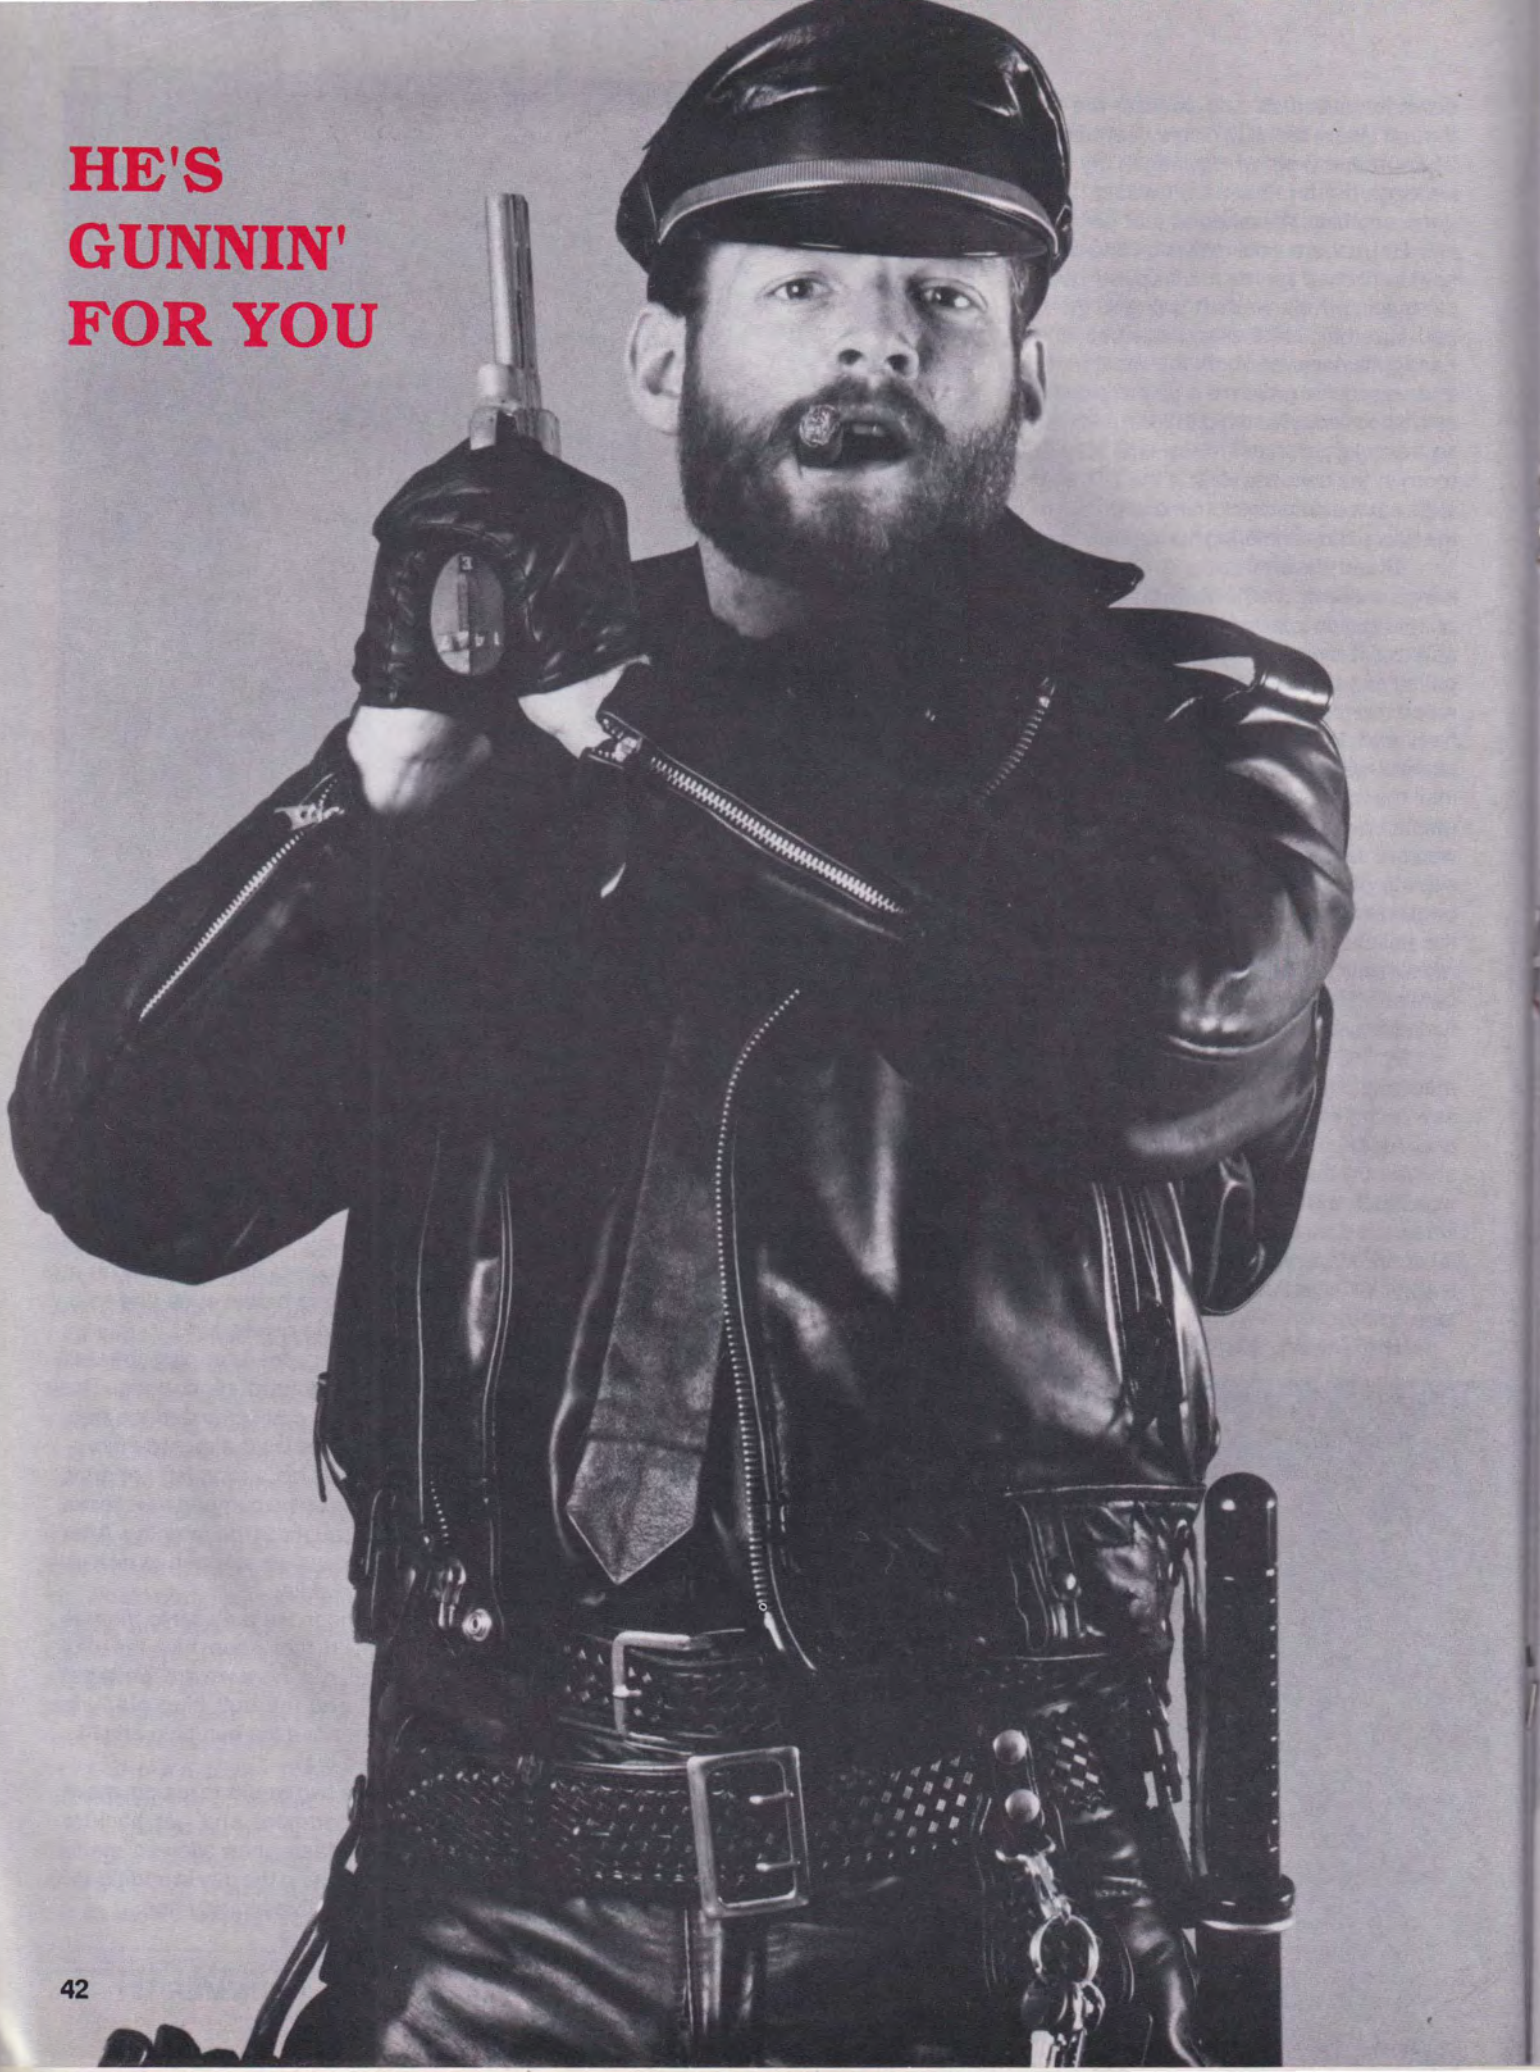

On the road, the butt plug irritated me and kept me hard all morning. The dirty sock on my cock provided the necessary friction and I was almost delirious. I kept looking at his strong legs and his beautiful boots as he pumped the breaks and clutch throughout the morning. After about three hours we stopped to pick up his load at the dairy.

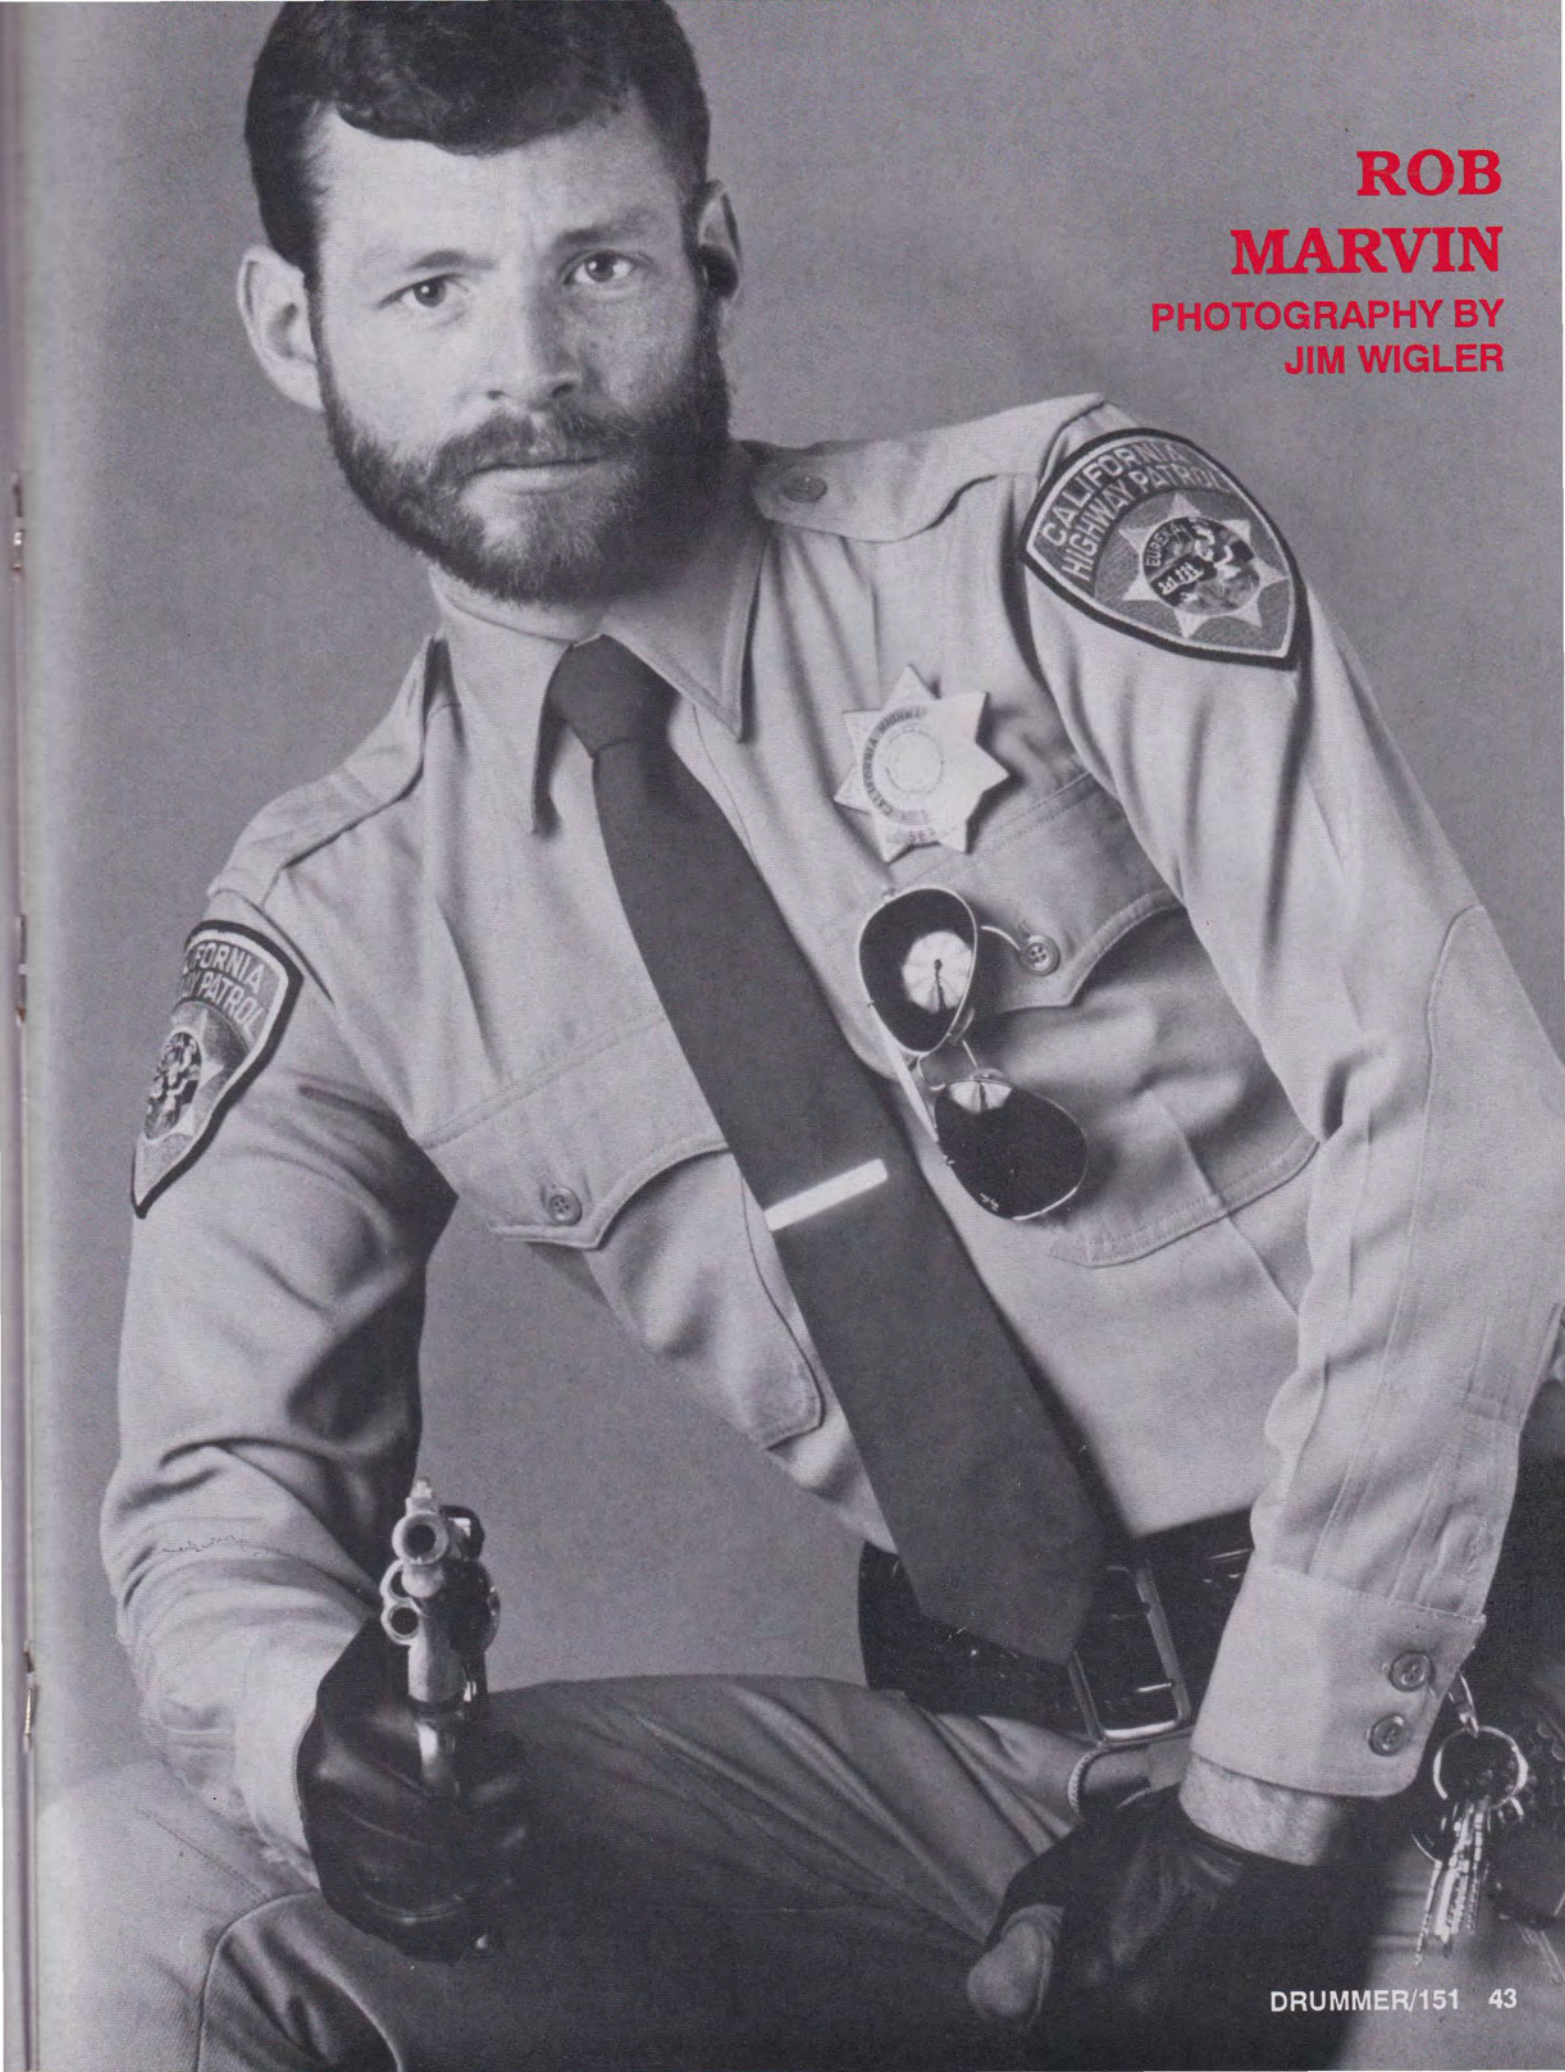

Around noon we pulled into the rest stop where I'd first seen him the day before. "Well, Kid, here we are. Let's get that belt off and the butt plug out." He helped me remove the butt plug and this time, I kissed him.

It took me two weeks to resign, move out of my apartment and get back to Oregon. My Master has allowed me to look for work during the day in addition to the full time job I've already got....

Serving him. ◆

TIES THAT BIND

Smoothing Out the Rough Spots

by Guy Baldwin, M. S.

All relationships have difficulties, and those couples who share an interest in SM are no exception. Yet quite often, when dominance and submission are part of a couple's sexual style, there can be special difficulties that come up when they attempt to solve their problems. Since most such couples have no role models to be guided by, they will often do their level best to work things out for themselves with whatever skills they may have. Typically, they don't turn up in the therapy room until they have come to a serious impasse, and they both decide that they need professional help to get through the difficulty.

But, because kinky couples are usually so reluctant to discuss the sexual aspects of their relationship, they will often delay professional support until well past the point where a professional could have been of assistance. This is like the medical patient who so fears doctors that he waits until he is at death's door before seeking treatment. When this happens, the illness may have already done so much damage to the body that treatment comes too late to save the patient's life or limb.

When it comes to a couple's private life together, this fear of professional helpers can itself be responsible for letting the relationship deteriorate past the point of no return. Then, when the relationship disintegrates, they decide it is just easier to break up and try again with someone else, maybe. Whenever I have come across such a situation, I find myself wishing that they had come to seek help with problem solving sooner.

All therapists are sad to see people who love each other fail at "marriage" when that was what they had originally wanted and tried for.

Although, here in this short space, it is impossible to detail all the sorts of problems that can break relationships apart, I do think it is safe to offer one guideline that can be helpful in preventing unnecessary divorce when used early enough. It is probably most important for the individual who notices it first to be honest with himself about the fact that he feels what I will call "persistent emotional pain" that doesn't feel good. There is no telling which partner might feel it first; it can be the Top or the bottom, but it is very important not to pretend that he doesn't feel it at all, or that it doesn't really matter.

Fear of professional helpers can be responsible for letting the relationship deteriorate past the point of no return.

Most commonly, this persistent emotional pain will appear as a depression—a sadness that won't go away—but it can sometimes masquerade as a simmering anger or resentment as well. Most people will feel this way for a while before they even notice it. One day we can just realize that we've been really down in the dumps for weeks or that our temper has been really short for a good while.

Sometimes the persistent emotional pain won't really come to your attention until you suddenly realize that your behavior has really changed in some important way recently. Maybe you have been drinking (or drugging) a lot more, or a lot more often lately; maybe you notice that you have started drinking at home (or at bars) much more often that was your habit. Maybe you don't initiate sex much or maybe you get "headaches" when sex comes up between you whereas before, you were eager for it. Maybe you've been hitting the junk food trail and have suddenly gained 15 unwanted pounds; maybe you are suddenly missing a lot of work or skipping class more than is usual for you. Whatever the change, any of these sorts of things can be a signal that can help you identify a persistent emotional pain.

However you discover it, the very first thing to do once you realize you feel this way, is to share this fact with your partner! It is not necessary to "figure out the reason" for the pain before you notify your partner about it, just report it. And right here is the place where being in a dominant/submissive relationship can really get in the way.

Tops can take the attitude that it is not okay to let a bottom know that something is wrong emotionally because he may fear that his bottom will lose respect for him or think him weak or un-masculine in some way. Bottoms can take the attitude that He has more important things on His mind and won't want to be bothered. Or a bottom might also decide that his feelings are weak or un-masculine—most of us are brought up believing that "real men" don't admit to feeling emotional pain—that's for women. Well, that is bullshit, guys; anyone can feel this kind of emotional pain, and you ignore it at your peril, and at the peril of the relationship—trust me about this. Failure to deal with unexpressed emotional pain early on is probably the most common reason for relationship failure.

Sharing your awareness of this pain can take many forms depending on your own style. It might sound like this, for example: "I'm in a bad way lately, and I don't yet know just why or what it's all about, but I thought you should know." Or maybe: "I just realized that I've been snapping at you a lot lately, and I just got that I'm hurting inside over something—I don't know what, and I think maybe that's why I've been so bitchy." Or even: "Something is wrong with me lately, and it has me worried." Although saying it out loud is the better way, some of you may find that doing it in a note or a letter is the only way that feels right. Whether you speak the words or write them, try to say as much as you know about the feelings, but don't try to have things all figured out before you start the process. This way, you involve your partner in the problem solving right from the start which helps him feel more a part of your life--your whole life, not just the parts that he can see.

Try to choose a good time for delivering this information about yourself. Don't just drop this information on him and then run out the door for work or hop on an airplane for a week-long business trip. Don't hit him with this news when he is home from work with a bad cold; he will be distracted and not be able to pay full attention to you. Don't do it when you are with others or have been drinking all night, right before or after sex, just before you have house guests arriving to stay for a week and so on. Choose a moment when there will be enough time to provide any details you may have about the feelings, and allow at least an hour for possible conversation.

Once you have shared the information, take time to talk with him about what your thoughts are about the pain every time you find a new piece of the puzzle for yourself. Keep him updated, and when you even suspect that he may have a role in your feeling, for God's sake, tell him what you think might be going on and listen to his thoughts about it. Try to make statements about yourself: "When you do such an such, I start to feel so and so." Don't make accusations or aggressive statements about your partner like, "You make me feel..." or "You shouldn't do...."

Sometimes, there is no "good time" to share your new awareness about this feeling. If He was just laid off from work and is worried about finding a new job, or just found out he was HIV positive, or that a parent or friend has just died, then you are justified in waiting maybe a week or so before you decide to share the news until he has had a chance to adjust a bit to changes in his own life. But even when yours is just another piece of bad or difficult news in his life, it is still important to tell it like it is. Part of being a couple is facing life—its joys and its troubles—together as a team. When one person in a relationship has a problem, both have that same problem whether the other one knows about the difficulty or not.

Just because two people can fall in love is no guarantee that they will be willing to go through the emotional tough spots together.

Once you both know that one of you is suffering from a persistent emotional pain, there are two problem solvers available to tackle the issues instead of just one. The ability to work on issues together successfully is one of the things that confirms two people as a couple. If you are going to keep important personal matters a secret, then what is the point of being in a relationship in the first place. Being "lovers" or "married" is not just about sharing the good stuff, but must include involving your partner in your life as it really is.

Fear that you are a "bad" partner for sharing such information or that your man will reject you unless you are always "just fine" will not help you here. Furthermore, any guy who tries to make you feel bad for having such feelings is just a fair-weather lover and not worth your affections. Once we decide we really want a relationship, we all need to be involved with men who are willing to participate fully in our inside life—our emotional life—as well as our external lives. A relationship must be a safe place in which to feel all of the feelings that go with being alive and in the world; otherwise, why bother?

Just because two people can fall in love and choose to be together is no guarantee that they will be willing to go through the emotional tough spots together. Check this out during the dating process to see if the guy you pick can really hang in there when you are going through your own growing pains. Don't overlook this important piece of information about a man you date just because he is good sex. You will be facing problems together long after you have settled into a comfortable sexuality together.

HOW TO PLACE YOUR AD IN DEAR SIR:

We accept ads, and changes to ads, only in writing. Sorry, we cannot do this over the phone. Submit ads on the form on the facing page or a copy of it. If you can't bear to cut up your issue of Drummer, and can't make photocopies, send us a note and we'll mail you copies of the form.

Box Numbers: $5.00 buys you a Drummer mail box for the life of your ad. Even after your ad expires, we will continue to forward replies forever—as long as we keep getting letters. (So, keep us posted if you move.)

Give us a name. We cannot forward mail to someone named "Boxholder" at a P. O. Box.

Phone Numbers: You can put your phone number in your ad for immediate response. WE WILL ONLY PUBLISH VERIFIED PHONE NUMBERS. Here's how to put your phone number in your ad:

Mail in your ad. (Don't forget to include the $2.00 phone verification charge.) About two weeks after you mail the ad to us, you call us at (415) 252-1195, during business hours (9:00 am to 5:00 pm Pacific Time, Mon.-Fri.) Be at the phone number you are placing in your ad. We will call you back to verify the number. If we have not verified your number within three months, we will publish the ad with a box number instead of a phone number.

You only need to verify a phone number once. Once it has appeared in Drummer, just attach a copy of the printed ad to your new ad if you wish to use that telephone number again. We will not publish voice-mail service numbers in personal ads. Don't forget to include your area code.

What else? Put anything you want in your ad, except references to minors, animals, prostitution, or drugs.

Expect about a 60-day delay from the time we receive your ad to when it appears in print. Remember, it takes time for people to respond, too. So, for example, if you're looking for Christmas presents, it would be smart to send us the ad 90 to 120 days before Christmas. Also remember replies by international mail may take longer than domestic mail.

HOW TO REPLY TO A DEAR SIR AD:

How to reply to a Drummer box number: Answering a Drummer box number is easy, but the few rules we have are hard and fast, so observe them or else. 1) Seal your letter in an envelope on which you have written the box number on the back flap in pencil. 2) Put your return address on the envelope if you wish the letter returned to you should there be some problem with delivery. 3) Put proper postage on the envelope: domestic postage is 29 cents for the first ounce, and 23 cents for each additional ounce. Letters going to Canada and Mexico cost 40 cents for the first ounce, 23 cents for each additional ounce. Foreign overseas postage is 50 cents for the first half-ounce, 45 cents for the second half-ounce, and 39 cents for each additional half-ounce. 4) Put the sealed letter(s) and a buck ($1) forwarding fee for each letter in another envelope, and mail it to: DESMODUS, INC., P. O. Box 410390, San Francisco, CA 94141-0390. Letters not properly prepared will be destroyed.

Desmodus will forward responses to ads in back issues. However, we cannot guarantee that old addresses will still be valid. Remember, the US Postal Service will not return undelivered mail without your return address. Keep in mind that people do move and their needs and desires do change.

JOIN THE LEATHER FRATERNITY

Membership has its privileges: a 12-issue subscription to Drummer and a free 10-line classified ad (as measured on the grid order form) in Drummer that runs for 12 issues. Leather Fraternity members also do not pay for a box number or pay forwarding fees when they write to Dear Sir box numbers. Members may change their ads up to three times (non-members may not). A Leather Fraternity box number for your ad is included in the $120 membership fee. And, from time to time, Leather Fraternity members are offered other benefits.

Add it up: A Drummer subscription costs $70. A 10-line personal ad running 12 times would cost $354. No mail forwarding fee? No box fee? So, even if you never use the forwarding service, you're already saving at least $328.00 by joining the Leather Fraternity. Do it.

Just use the grid order form on the facing page . Your subscription will begin with the next issue we ship, and your ad will begin usually two issues after that (there is always a 60-day delay from the time we receive your ad, or a change to an ad, and when it appears in print).

ELASTRATOR / THE ULTIMATE IN TIT PLAY

SSCo special purchase, originally used by livestock breeders to castrate animals. Use the specially designed pliers to place the rings on the nipples. As the rubber rings squeeze, the nipples enlarge (the same way a cockring increases erection) greatly increasing the sensation for the wearer. Once the rings are removed, the blood rushes back into the nipples—that is the time to work them. Set includes Elastrator, special scissors for safe removal and 100 rings.

NEW BOOKS FROM LEYLAND/GAY SUNSHINE PRESS

☐ LEATHERMEN SPEAK OUT: An Anthology on Leathersex, edited by Jack Ricardo. Fifty leather dads and sons, masters and slaves, tops and bottoms reveal what it means to be a leatherman in America today. From tours of their fully-equipped dungeons and playrooms, with inventories of their favorite S/M tools and gear, to stories of their intense encounters with the hottest partners, Leathermen Speak Out is the first in-depth anthology written by leathermen themselves. 192 pp. $14.95.

☐ URBAN ABORIGINALS: A Celebration of Leathersexuality, by Geoff Mains. This classic volume—heralded by The Advocate as a "Pioneering book with groundbreaking conclusions"—is finally back in print available once again! 187 pp. $14.95.

TOUGH CUSTOMERS

TC 151-01
ALL-AMERICAN ASIAN HUNK
This San Francisco TC is 38, 5' 5" tall, 125 pounds, with a very smooth, lean, and defined build. He's into mutual body worship, tit work, and development of mental, spiritual, and physical growth through narcissistic explorations. He's looking to meet other narcissistic body builders and athletes.

TC 151-02
HE WANTS EXACTLY WHAT HE IS NOT
This TC lives in Ohio where he says he has had some great "intimate" evenings with Drummer. Now he wants to connect with Drummer men who are "opposite types" to himself: Be hairy, bearded, burly, and ready for action when you contact this Tough Customer.

ISLAND COWBOY
Here's a TC with a simple message: "Hawaiian cowboy looking for some doggies to ride and spank." He doesn't say that tourists are welcome, but we're guessing they are.

TC 151-04 IN LEATHER & BOOTS ▲
Arkansas TC: "47, 6'1", brown/blue, hairy, full moustache, 10" cut with cobra and PA. Leather, WS, oil, suspension, total restraint, rubber, boots, uniforms, CBTT, piercing, tattoos, nailing, SM mutual, flogging, Satanism, mummification, sensory deprivation. Kinky!"

The long-anticipated release of issue #2 of our all-TC magazine has finally happened. Orders are being shipped immediately.

If you like real men, rather than models... if you want to see pictures of guys you can actually write to and get together with... if you want to know what gets other guys hot... you're gonna love Drummer Tough Customers 2

We got it all together for you in 76 pages of sizzling photos, fantasies, orders, and pleas. More than 175 picturesof more than 160 guys from all over the USA, Europe, the Pacific, Canada... Tops, bottoms, cocksuckers, piss masters, slave trainers, slaves, Daddies, boys... you asked for it, you got it! And—just in case you could want anything else, we've put the Nationwide and International Dear Sir classifieds from Drummer 151. If you don't find what you want in this magazine, maybe it really doesn't exist.

To order your copy of Drummer Tough Customers 2: Send $6.95 plus $2.00 S&H ($5.00 S&H outside North America) to Desmodus, Inc., P. O. Box 410390, San Francisco, CA 94141-0390. CA residents remember to include 8.25% sales tax. Visa, MasterCard, and American Express orders accepted by phone (415) 252-1195 or by Fax (415) 252-9574. (Shipping and handling for additional copies to same address: $1 ea.in No. America)

HOW TO BE A TOUGH CUSTOMER

BE A DRUMMERMAN! Leathermen ARE Drummer. These photos were contributed by Drummer readers—YOU should be on this page. Send us a black and white photo (color is acceptable but will not reproduce well) with your name and address printed on the back, along with a statement that you are of legal age, and your signature. If you wish, we will assign you a confidential TC Box Number—This is a FREE classified ad with your picture in it! Or, if you just want your picture in our pages and don't want any mail, just say so. We can't show penetration, and photos are not returnable.

To Answer a TC ad: put your correspondence in an envelope, seal, apply postage, and write, in pencil, the TC number on the back flap. Put this inside another envelope along with a buck for handling, and mail to: Tough Customers, PO Box 1410390, SF, CA, 94141-0390.
